Achilles tendon

This anatomical diagram illustrates the right leg and foot from a lateral perspective. The Achilles tendon is shown as a thick, red band extending from the heel bone up towards the knee. Two specific areas of the tendon are highlighted with red circular markers to indicate different types of inflammation. The first marker is located in the mid-portion of the tendon, above the heel, and is labeled 'Noninsertional Achilles tendonitis'. The second marker is located at the point where the tendon attaches to the heel bone, and is labeled 'Insertional Achilles tendonitis'. A leader line points from the text 'Achilles tendon' to the main body of the tendon.
