AI Will Take Your Job, and It's for the Best Jeff Schatten, Teresa Aires, 2025-04-17 AI Will Take Your Job and It's for the Best examines how AI will free people from mundane tasks allowing them to pursue more meaningful and creative roles. It's more than a forecast; it's a guide to thriving in the age of AI and embracing the radical new social contract it requires.

National Conference on Artificial Intelligence, 2005 The Oil Paradox C. I. Obi, 2004 The dominant trend in environmental studies has assumed that people ruin the natural environment. The contributors to Greening the Great Red Island: Madagascar in Nature and Culture challenge this assumption not for its elements of obvious truthfulness but its oversimplification. Diverse social environmental perspectives on Madagascar demonstrate that Madagascar's rural people have dynamic historical and complex relationships with their environments. Conservation organisations working to preserve Madagascar's biological megadiversity may achieve negative results if they start with the wrong assumptions. Combining potent theoretical and methodological analysis with detailed case studies from across the island of Madagascar, this collection will appeal to those doing research and teaching in African studies, anthropology, development, environmental studies, geography, history, political science, and zoology.

There is a diminishing income-generating labour supply and a low food production rate in areas which may be beset by drought, famine, HIV/AIDS, or conflict. That agriculture is a viable sector for economic growth is posited on the fact that this sector provides a livelihood for some 70% of the region's population. Nevertheless, the continent has failed to produce enough food for consumption. The acceleration of the process of globalisation has exacerbated the difficult and imbalanced agricultural environment in which poor countries must operate, which so this volume maintains, can only be addressed through integrated approaches at a regional level. Furthermore, the failure of so many international food relief programmes indicates that an approach harnessed by the regional bodies such as Nepad and SADC may be the most effective strategy to ensure the prospect of food security.
