to an ethically committed politically charged pedagogy The assumption on which they base the text is that educators must see their work as inextricably linked to the broader conflicts stresses and crises of the social world it is not otherwise possible to make sense of what is happening educationally What happens in school or as part of the educational experience reflects expresses and mediates profound questions about the direction and nature of the society we inhabit The text is organized thematically into five sections which address respectively social justice and democracy consumerism culture and public education marginality and difference moral and spiritual perspectives on education and globalization and education Each section is preceded by a brief essay that introduces the readings This Third Edition includes many new readings and addresses issues that have more recently emerged as especially significant such as concerns about the implications of globalization and the post 9 11 world commercialism violence and the ever increasing influence of high stakes testing This compelling text is relevant for a wide range of courses in educational foundations educational policy curriculum studies and multicultural education that address the social context of education cultural and political change and public policy

Critical Social Issues in American Education H. Svi Shapiro, David E. Purpel, 1998 This carefully structured reader provides a focus for thinking about education in the context of a society that now in the final years of this millennium is faced with a range of critical sometimes catastrophic issues and problems These include poverty and growing social injustice racism and sexism and other forms of exclusion the depersonalization of social and political life the moral and spiritual decay of the culture and the ecological deterioration of the planet Although this volume focuses on American society there is also concern with the larger global community The book is intended to work on two levels First it helps readers develop an awareness of how education is connected to the wider social structures of social cultural political and economic life Second it encourages not only a critical examination of our present social reality but also a serious discussion of alternatives of what a transformed society and educational process might look like The editors goal in this text is to deliberately engage readers in connecting the work of teachers to an ethically committed politically charged pedagogy

Critical Social Issues in American Education H. Svi Shapiro, David E. Purpel, 1993 Jacques Lacan and Education Donyell L. Roseboro, 2008-01-01 This is an introductory level text with emphasis on Lacan s theoretical relationship to education and which uses Lacan s theories as a springboard for a different educational discourse one that forces us to assess inward rather than outward To move beyond the linear nature of schools a context exacerbated by developmental psychologists like Piaget and Erikson who theorized that we can understand children s development in stages the author argues that Lacan s theories allow us to holistically educate to teach cognizant of the relationship between interior and exterior spaces between the unspoken and the heard The text serves four purposes 1 to translate Lacan s primary ideas into language appropriate for introductory level college students 2 to examine identity in ways that are relevant across disciplines 3 to re frame Lacan s work with post structuralist and postmodern theories and in so doing create a distinctive analysis of the self predefined yet

reinvented and 4 to juxtapose Lacan's work with post formal thinking and theorize about his relevance to public education. This book is purposefully organized with specific emphasis on Lacan's work as a teacher and the ways in which his theories complicate current accountability standards in the United States which insist that good teaching and learning is quantifiable. The author foregrounds Lacan's concepts of identity and language and analyzes those in parallel to the discourses of democratic education. Lacan's theories do provide some indelible possibilities for public education in the twenty first century. Considering his relevance to post structuralism post formalism post colonialism and postmodernism a Lacanian perspective of public education would defy the current standardization of curriculum in the wake of No Child Left Behind (NCLB) mandates. Using Lacan the author re envisions public education as a process which encourages the distinctiveness of students challenges normative assumptions about what a good student is and demands that teachers facilitate student understanding of multiple truths but that teachers also engage in an honest reconstruction of history one that acknowledges the brutality of conquest the arrogance of imperialism and the illusiveness elusiveness of peace. Using the South African Truth and Reconciliation process as a framework the author ends by constructing a model for public education which is grounded in truth telling in public spaces witnessing as a political practice and educating as purposeful work. A Lacanian post formal curriculum at its core thus requires that we seek and identify truths we work to become integrated beings by hearing the unconscious that which we do not want to or cannot face and that we educate for goodness and wholeness. This book is ultimately a call to re envision the current public educational system in the U S a call to admit that it has inexcusably failed far too many children and a call to construct entirely different possibilities.

Ethical Educational Leadership in Turbulent Times Joan Poliner Shapiro, Steven Jay Gross, 2013. Educational leaders not only face moral and ethical decisions regarding their classrooms schools districts and education institutions but they also must consider the complexities and threats that impact their communities. In this unstable era of war terrorism natural disasters accountability and high stakes testing this process is particularly daunting. Ethical Educational Leadership in Turbulent Times is an engaging case study based text that will assist leaders in their ethical decision making processes during a time of turbulence and uncertainty. The book is framed by Gross's Turbulence Theory and Shapiro and Stefkovich's Multiple Ethical Paradigms of justice critique care and the profession. Presenting clear explanations of theory in combination with authentic dilemmas developed by practitioners this book will assist leaders in dealing with challenging situations in their own settings. New in the Second Edition: Expanded discussion of Turbulence Theory and addition of the most recent scholarship in the field of ethical leadership. New cases addressing adequate yearly progress misuse of student data financial pressures curriculum design student safety athletics and social justice issues. Updated end of case questions to reflect contemporary issues. Ethical Educational Leadership in Turbulent Times is a valuable book for both aspiring and practicing educational administrators and leaders.

Ethical Leadership and Decision Making in Education Joan Poliner Shapiro, Jacqueline A. Stefkovich, 2010-07-02. The third edition of the best selling text Ethical Leadership and Decision Making in Education continues to address the increasing interest in ethics and assists educational leaders with the complex dilemmas in today's challenging and diverse society. Through discussion and analysis of real life moral dilemmas that educational leaders face in their schools and communities, authors Shapiro and Stefkovich demonstrate the application of their four ethical paradigms: the ethics of justice, care, critique, and profession. After an illustration of how the Multiple Ethical Paradigm approach may be applied to real dilemmas, the authors present a series of cases written by students and academics in the field representing the dilemmas faced by practicing educational leaders in urban, suburban, and rural settings in an era full of complexities and contradictions. Following each case are questions that call for thoughtful, complex thinking and help readers come to grips with their own ethical codes and apply them to practical situations. New in the Third Edition: An entire new chapter on privacy versus safety including ethical issues such as strip searches, gang membership, cyber bullying, and sexting. New cases infused into chapters on early childhood education, diverse student populations, and technology. Updates throughout to reflect contemporary issues and recent scholarship in the field of ethical leadership. Including teaching notes for the instructor stressing the importance of self-reflection, this text is easily adaptable for a variety of uses with a wide range of audiences. Ethical Leadership and Decision Making in Education is a valuable book for both aspiring and practicing administrators, teacher leaders, and educational policy makers.

Encyclopedia of Educational Leadership and Administration Fenwick W. English, 2006-02-16. The SAGE Encyclopedia of Educational Leadership and Administration presents the most recent theories, research, terms, concepts, ideas, and histories on educational leadership and school administration as taught in preparation programs and practiced in schools and colleges today. With more than 600 entries written by more than 200 professors, graduate students, practitioners, and association officials, the two volumes of this encyclopedia represent the most comprehensive knowledge base of educational leadership and school administration that has as yet been compiled.

EDUCATION POLICY FOR SOCIAL CHANGE Yoko Mogi-Hein, 2018. Education Policy for Social Change: Critical Issues in American Education examines and discusses educational policy and issues that arise in all aspects of American education.

Centering Educational Administration Robert J. Starratt, 2003-04-02. In this book, Starratt enters the national conversation among educational administration scholars and practitioners about what constitutes the core of their knowledge and practice. In Part I, he develops three main themes: cultivating meaning, community, and moral responsibility, which he then positions against national themes about the core of educational administration: school improvement, democratic community, and social justice. Rather than focusing on the routine managerial tasks normally associated with school administration—budgeting, personnel, and legal problems, time and resource management, etc.—this text asks aspiring school leaders to reflect first on the underlying philosophical and sociological perspectives that constitute the substance of administrative work in education. Centering Educational Administration provides a unique perspective on leadership. The author views leadership as organically related to teaching and learning as concerned with internal capacity building in response to state imposed accountability pressures and as an existential process of writing one's autobiography through their day to day work

An Interdisciplinary View of Educational Administration Centering Educational Administration asks educational administrators to bring contemporary philosophical ethical and anthropological issues as well as learning theory social theory and political theory into their thinking about the daily operation of the school

A Unique Perspective on School Improvement This text asserts that school improvement narrowly defined as improving results on high stakes tests can likewise place the nation at risk

An equally important agenda is teaching the young the basic satisfactions norms and potential of using their knowledge in the service of the community and of a wider humanity

Exercises in Reflective Practice This book challenges the reader to use the ideas of each chapter to analyze the current practices in their school and to propose concrete changes to improve the teaching and learning environment of their school

Red Seminars Peter McLaren, 2005

Red Seminars is a collection of essays about the crisis of capitalism and democracy and its impact on education A steadfast proponent of collective scholarship renowned critical educator Peter McLaren is partnered in this volume with a new generation of radical scholars The result is a timely study that moves critical pedagogy into new and urgent directions BOOK JACKET Knowledge & Power in the Global Economy David Gabbard, 2008 The second edition of Knowledge and Power in the Global Economy examines how neoliberal and neoconservative policies are working in tandem to privatize and commercialize public schools It looks at how these policies and the agendas behind them have impacted the internal dynamics of school management teaching and learning as well as how they have transformed the external dynamics of education from a public good or service offered to serve public interests to a private enterprise primarily serving private interests In addition to information critique and analysis multiple perspectives are provided that readers can draw upon to formulate an alternative vision of education as a crucial element of social change along democratic and egalitarian lines The first edition of this volume provided a critical encyclopedic approach to the rhetoric of educational reform as it developed from the 1980s through the 1990s critiquing its vocabulary elaborating the multiplicity of ways that the logic of neoliberalism and the emerging patterns of high stakes testing and accountability were impacting the curriculum and introducing ideas associated with alternative and liberatory educational projects Since its publication in 2000 policy developments such as the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 in the U S and others in the U K and other parts of the world have nationalized and intensified these patterns deepening the logic and extent of neoliberalism's hold over educational reforms At the same time it is impossible to understand the current crises in education solely in terms of neoliberalism the impact of neoconservatism must also be considered Hence this second edition has a new subtitle The Effects of School Reform in a Neoliberal Neoconservative Age This edition is structured around five themes Political and Social Foundations Anti Educational Foundations The Set Up Anti Educational Foundations The Trap Classroom Consequence Democracy's Path This volume will particularly interest scholars and professionals across the fields of educational foundations curriculum theory and educational policy and is well suited as a text for courses in these areas

Annual Review of Applied Linguistics, 2005 Trends in Ethnic Identification Among Second-Generation Haitian Immigrants in New York City Flore Zephir, 2001-06-30 The author conducted extensive interviews with both first and second generation immigrants in New York City revealing that second generation Haitian immigrants do not have one single identity Rather they exhibit multiple identities that are shaped by both the American realities and the home and familial context The author describes in detail the various macro and micro factors that account for this great variation in ethnic identification and discusses the implications of these identity choices for American society at large Unlike their parents who do not consider themselves American but rather birds of passage and who additionally because of their distinctive foreign accents are not perceived to be American the children of Haitian immigrants have the option of being less ethnic In fact they are very often seen by others as merely American In light of this distinction the central questions posed in the present study are the following Are Haitian families successful at passing on to their offspring the same ethnic feelings identification culture and values How do their children choose to define themselves Do they consider themselves American or more specifically African American Is being ethnic important to their self image In what way does the home environment influence their ethnic choices What role do the American realities that surround them play in shaping Haitian youth identity What are the manifestations and implication of these identifies Knowledge and Power in the Global Economy David Gabbard,2000 Illuminates how the meaning of language used to discuss the role reform of US public schools reflects an essentially economic view of the world and offers a set of alternative concepts meanings for reformulating the role of US public schools
