proliferated in the 1960s enjoys dominance as the theory that encompasses the ethical principles of social work in Australia. While on the surface critical social work appears to align with the Australian Association of Social Workers (AASW) ethical principles of social justice, professional integrity and respect for persons, practitioners and students alike find enacting it can be problematic in complex practice situations. Reporting original research of cases from the field, the book focuses on the impact of intersectionality and shows new ways to address the nuance of othering and modern day colonialism. It will be of interest to researchers, practitioners and students who are keen to engage with the latest in the field of critical social work and consider implications of this for the development of their own identity.

Comprehensive Handbook of Social Work and Social Welfare, Social Work Practice Karen M. Sowers, Catherine N. Dulmus, 2008-03-07 V 1 The profession of social work v 2 Human behavior in the social environment v 3 Social work practice v 4 Social policy and policy practice

Critical Social Work June Allan, Linda Briskman, 2020-07-16 Another important contribution to the growing literature on critical social work. It is on the cutting edge of thinking about social work and its goal of social change. Kate van Heugten, Social Work Review. Critical Social Work starts from the premise that a central goal of social work practice is social change to redress social inequality. Taking a critical theoretical approach, the authors explore the links between personal and social change. They confront the challenges for critical social work in the context of pressures to separate the personal from the political and in responding to the impact of changes in the socio-political, statutory and global contexts of practice. Critical Social Work has been thoroughly revised to take into account recent social, economic and political developments. Coverage of theoretical frameworks has been substantially expanded and reflects current concerns such as evidence-based practice and human rights. The causes of people's marginalisation and oppression are examined in relation to class, race, ethnicity, gender and other forms of social inequality. Case study chapters in the earlier edition on working with immigrants, Indigenous people, women, men, families, people with psychiatric disabilities and those experiencing loss and grief have been updated and revised. The second edition includes new case study chapters on disability, older people, children, rurality and violence and abuse. Critical Social Work is an essential resource to inform progressive social work practice.

Regulating Refugee Protection Through Social Welfare Peter Billings, 2022-07-15 This book analyses the use and abuse of social welfare as a means of border control for asylum seekers and refugees in Australia. Offering an unparalleled critique of the regulation and deterrence of protection seekers via the denial or depletion of social welfare, the book includes contributions from legal scholars, social scientists, behavioural scientists and philosophers in tandem with the critical insights and knowledge supplied by refugees. It is organised in three parts, each framed by a commentary that serves as an introduction as well as offering pertinent comparative perspectives from Europe. Part One comprises three chapters: a rights-based analysis of Australia's hostile environment for protection seekers; a searing critique of welfare policing of asylum seekers as necropolitics; and a unique philosophical perspective that grounds scrutiny of Australia's policing of asylum seekers. Part Two contains five chapters that uncover and explore the lived experiences and adverse impacts of different social welfare restrictions for refugee protection seekers Finally the chapters in Part Three offer distinct views on human rights advocacy movements and methods and the scope for resistance and change to the status quo This book will appeal to an international as well as an Australian readership with interests in the areas of human rights immigration and refugee law social welfare law policy social work and public health
