Critical Historian:

The Critical Historian G Kitson Clark,2016-04-14 Originally published in 1967 this book analyses the method by which historical evidence is built up and compares the nature of historical proof with that of other disciplines such as the law and natural sciences It examines an extraordinary series of forgeries and distortions from the False Decretals to the biographies of Lytton Strachey as well as discussing how an historical reputation such as that enjoyed by Judge Jefferies was created

The Critical Historian G. Kitson Clark,1985 Critique as Critical History Bregham Dalglish,2017-08-22 This book presents the first sustained articulation of a Foucauldian uvre It situates Foucault s critique within the tradition of Kant s call for a philosophical archaeology of reason in parallel it demonstrates the priority in Foucault s thought of Nietzsche over Heidegger and the framing of reason against an ontology of power Bregham Dalglish hereby claims that at the heart of the Foucauldian uvre is the philosophical method of critical history Its task is to make the will to know that drives thought conscious of itself as a problem especially the regimes of truth that define our governmentalities By revealing the contingency of their constituent parts of knowledge power and ethics Dalglish demonstrates that critical history offers an alternative mode of critique to the hitherto singular reading of the intellectual heritage of enlightenment while it fosters an agonistic concept of freedom in respect of our putatively necessary limits

Arthur Elson,1901 History in Transit Dominick LaCapra,2018-08-06 History in Transit comprises Dominick LaCapra s explorations of relationships he believes have been insufficiently theorized between experience and identity between history and various theories of subjectivity between extreme events and their representation between institutional structures and the kinds of knowledge produced within them Taken together these discussions form a dialogical encounter positing the links among epistemological questions historicist ones and issues pertaining to disciplinary and institutional politics Reacting against the antitheoretical bias of some prominent historians LaCapra presents an alternative model of historiographical practice one in which emphases on plurality and hybridity are combined with the concept of historical experience For LaCapra experience emerges as a category both theoretically determined and anchored in the facticity of the everyday LaCapra tests the assumptions and implications of the way one approaches the past by looking to psychoanalysis to render more self aware the relationship between the historian and his or her material He offers criticisms of assumptions held by practicing historians and theorists placing the study of history at the center of a larger argument about the role of the contemporary university Contesting both corporatization and claims that the university is in ruins LaCapra writes It is paradoxical that the demand to make the university conform to an ever increasing extent to a market or business model seems oblivious to the fact that the American university has probably been the most successful of its type in the world that students from other countries disproportionately desire to study in it
