Crobing Oceans Reconfiguring American Literary Studies In The Pacific Rim:

Crossing Oceans: Reconfiguring American Literary Studies in the Pacific Rim Noelle Brada-Williams, Current Antarctic Literature ,1994

Transoceanic America Michelle Burnham,2019-05-23 Transoceanic America offers a new approach to American literature by emphasizing the material and conceptual interconnectedness of the Atlantic and Pacific worlds These oceans were tied together economically textually and politically through such genres as maritime travel writing mathematical and navigational schoolbooks and the relatively new genre of the novel Especially during the age of revolutions in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries long distance transoceanic travel required calculating and managing risk in the interest of profit The result was the emergence of a newly suspenseful form of narrative that came to characterize capitalist investment political revolution and novelistic plot The calculus of risk that drove this expectationist narrative also concealed violence against vulnerable bodies on ships and shorelines around the world A transoceanic American literary and cultural history requires new non linear narratives to tell the story of this global context and to recognize its often forgotten textual archive

Pacific Literatures as World Literature Hsinya Huang,Chia-hua Yvonne Lin,2023-05-04 Pacific Literatures as World Literature is a conjuration of trans Pacific poets and writers whose work enacts forces of becoming oceanic and suggests a different mode of understanding viewing and belonging to the world The Pacific past and present remains uneasily amenable to territorial demarcations of national or marine sovereignty At the same time as a planetary element necessary to sustaining life and well being the Pacific could become the means to envisioning ecological solidarity if compellingly framed in terms that elicit consent and inspire an imagination of co belonging and care The Pacific can signify a bioregional site of coalitional promise as much as a danger zone of antagonistic peril With ground breaking writings from authors based in North America Japan Taiwan Korea Hawaii and Guam and new modes of research including multispecies ethnography and practice ecopoetics and indigenous cosmopolitics authors explore the socio political significance of the Pacific and contribute to the development of a collective effort of comparative Pacific studies covering a refreshingly broad ethnographically grounded range of research themes This volume aims to decenter continental land poetics as such via long standing transnational Pacific ties re worlding Pacific literature as world literature

Oceanic Archives, Indigenous Epistemologies, and Transpacific American Studies Yuan Shu,Otto Heim,Kendall Johnson,2019-10-22 The field of transnational American studies is going through a paradigm shift from the transatlantic to the transpacific This volume demonstrates a critical method of engaging the Asian Pacific the chapters present alternative narratives that negotiate American dominance and exceptionalism by analyzing the experiences of Asians and Pacific Islanders from the vast region including those from the Philippines Vietnam Indonesia Hawaii Guam and other archipelagos Contributors make use of materials from oceanic archives retrieving what has seemingly been lost forgotten or downplayed inside and outside state bound archives state legal preoccupations and state prioritized projects The result is the recovery of indigenous epistemologies which enables scholars to go beyond US based sources and legitimates third world knowledge production and dissemination Surprising findings and unexpected perspectives abound in this work Minnan traders from southern China are identified as the agents who connected the Indian Ocean with the Pacific making the Manila Galleon trade in the sixteenth century the first completely global commercial enterprise The Chamorro poetry of Guam gives a view of America from beyond its national borders and articulates the cultural pride of the Chamorro against US colonialism and imperialism The continuing distortion of indigenous claims to the sovereignty of Hawaii is analyzed through a reading of the most widely circulated English translation of the creation myth Kumulipo There is also a critique of the Korean involvement in the American War in Vietnam which was informed and shaped by Korean economy and politics in a global context By investigating the transpacific as moments of military cultural and geopolitical contentions this timely collection charts the reach and possibilities of the latest developments in the most dynamic form of transnational American studies This collection offers a well organized and intellectually coherent series of essays addressing issues of American imperialism in Oceania and the Pacific region Covering history politics and literary culture in equal measure the essays are theoretically well informed and their focus on Indigenous cultures speaks to the current scholarly interest in the ways in which Indigenous communities can be understood within a global context Paul Giles University of Sydney This terrific volume offers the latest mapping of that complex terrain known as the transpacific Timely and capacious the essays here from an all star cast of international scholars offer the latest thinking on the oceanic dimensions of global modernity Essential reading for anyone interested in the current Asian turn in American Studies Asian American Studies and Transpacific Studies Steven Yao Hamilton College

Across Currents: Connections Between Atlantic and (Trans)Pacific Studies Nicole Poppenhagen, Jens Temmen, 2020-04-28 This book explores connections between Atlantic studies and trans Pacific studies including the potential discursive topical and historical overlaps of the two fields It carves out mutual concerns and theoretical affinities but also divergent approaches and differences While acknowledging the fundamental differences that characterize the individual fields the essays in this volume examine how both Atlantic and trans Pacific studies are part of global currents of political activist artistic economic and academic exchange This volume brings together voices from Europe North America and the Pacific with disciplinary backgrounds in history culture and literature Directed at scholars with a background in trans Pacific and or Atlantic studies this collection is an attempt to stimulate exchange between the two fields to intensify their impact within the current transnational focus of literary and cultural studies to encourage the questioning of well mapped paths of inquiry and to outline new theoretical approaches to both fields This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Atlantic Studies Reimagining the American Pacific Rob Wilson, 2000 In this compelling critique Rob Wilson explores the creation of the Pacific Rim in the American imagination and how the concept has been variously adapted and resisted in Hawai i the Pacific Islands New Zealand and Australia Reimagining the American Pacific ranges from the nineteenth century to the present and draws on theories of postmodernism transnationality and post Marxist geography to contribute to the ongoing discussion of what constitutes global and local Wilson begins by tracing the arrival of American commerce and culture in the Pacific through missionary and imperial forces in the nineteenth century and the parallel development of Asia Pacific as an idea Using an impressive range of texts from works by Herman Melville James Michener Maori and Western Samoan novelists and Bamboo Ridge poets to Baywatch films and musicals such as South Pacific and Blue Hawaii and native Hawaiian shark god poetry Wilson illustrates what it means for a space to be regionalized Claiming that such places become more open to transnational flows of information labor finance media and global commodities he explains how they then become isolated their borders simultaneously crossed and fixed In the case of Hawai i Wilson argues that culturally innovative risky forms of symbol making and a broader more global vision of local plight are needed to counterbalance the racism and increasing imbalance of cultural capital and goods in the emerging postplantation and tourist centered economy Reimagining the American Pacific leaves the reader with a new understanding of the complex interactions of global and local economies and cultures in a region that since the 1970s has been a leading trading partner of the United States It is an engaging and provocative contribution to the fields of Asian and American studies as well as those of cultural studies and theory literary criticism and popular culture America and the Pacific Rim Gerald L. Houseman, 1995 Recognizing the dawning of the Pacific century and its implications for the United States this textbook explores the economic political and social development of the countries of the Asia Pacific and analyzes past present and future U S policy responses Houseman compares and contrasts various levels of development within the region emphasizing especially trade security and human rights issues He concludes with recommendations for U S policymaking acknowledging the realities of shrinking political and economic influence in the post Cold War era The Rise of Pacific Literature Matthew Hayward, Maebh Long, 2024-09-03 In the 1960s and 1970s the staff and students of two newly founded universities in the Pacific Islands helped foster a golden age of Oceanian literature At the University of Papua New Guinea and the University of the South Pacific bold experiments in curriculum design recentered literary studies around a Pacific modernity Rejecting the established British colonial model writer scholars placed Pacific oratory and a growing body of Oceanian writing at the heart of the syllabus From this local core students ventured outward to contemporary postcolonial literatures where they saw modernist techniques repurposed for a decolonizing world Only then did they turn to foundational modernist texts encountered at last as a set of creative tools rather than a canon to be copied or learned by rote The Rise of Pacific Literature reveals the transformative role and radical adaptations of global modernisms in this golden age Maebh Long and Matthew

Hayward examine the reading and teaching of Pacific oral narratives European and American modernisms and African Caribbean and Indian literature tracing how Oceanian writers appropriated and reworked key texts and techniques They identify the local innovations and international networks that spurred Pacific literature's golden age by reading crucial works against the poetry prose and plays on the syllabi of the new universities Placing internationally recognized writers such as Albert Wendt Subramani Konai Helu Thaman Marjorie Crocombe and John Kasaipwalova alongside lesser known authors of works published in Oceanian little magazines this book offers a wide ranging new account of Pacific literary history that tells a fresh story about modernism's global itineraries and transformations

What Is in a Rim? Arif Dirlik, 1998-03-05 This pathbreaking multidisciplinary work challenges our unthinking acceptance of such terms as Asia Pacific and Pacific Rim Clarifying the hidden power relationships and hegemonic struggles that are disguised by ideological constructions of the region the contributors uncover fundamental contradictions_including the human costs and consequences_that underlie the much celebrated economic boom In evaluating the idea of Asia Pacific the book shifts our focus from abstract relationships between capital and commodities to the human interactions that have played a formative part in the region's constitution The contributors agree that it is these interactions that constitute the region rather than the physical boundaries of the Pacific This revised and updated edition brings in additional essays focusing on conceptualizations of the Pacific considers more fully interactions among countries and strongly emphasizes peoples within the Pacific who are routinely ignored in most discussions of the Rim
