Cross Cockade International Volume 30 No 3:

Aces of Jagdgeschwader Nr III Greg VanWyngarden, 2016-01-20 Royal Prussian Jagdgeschwader Nr III was the third of Germany's vaunted fighter wings to be formed during World War I. Commanded by the Pour le Mérite winner and well-respected ace Hauptmann Bruno Loerzer for its entire existence, it was composed of the celebrated Jasta Boelcke along with Jagdstaffeln 26, 27, and 36. Equipped largely with the new Fokker triplane, these four units would play an important role in the Kaiserschlacht as part of the 17. Armee. As Germany's fortunes waned in the summer of 1918, the aces of JG III nonetheless did their best to stem the tides of British, French, and later American aircraft they encountered. Aces such as Carl Bolle, Paul B. Umer, Heinrich Bongartz, Hermann Frommherz, Rudolf Klimke, and the infamous Hermann Göring all carved their names in the record books flying in this formidable formation. This book examines the tactics, achievements, and personalities of one of the deadliest of Germany's aerial units.

Dowding of Fighter Command Vincent Orange, 2008-10-30 An extensive biography of the life and distinguished military career of the Scottish air chief marshal. Making full use of archival sources, studies by other scholars, and information provided by family members, Vincent Orange has completed the first biography of Air Chief Marshal Sir Hugh Dowding to cover his entire life. Soldier, pilot, wireless pioneer, squadron commander, spiritualist, champion skier. Stuffy Dowding is perhaps best known as the creator of the first radar-based air defense system, and his no less remarkable management of such throughout the Battle of Britain. Dowding served in delightful and dangerous Iraq, helped to pacify unrest in the Holy Land, was involved in the R 101 airship disaster, and oversaw the creation of Britain's first eight-gun monoplane, the Hurricane, and Spitfire. Controversially dismissed from Fighter Command and refused the RAF's highest rank, he nevertheless became the first airman elevated to the peerage. Since Trenchard Westminister Abbey was packed for his memorial service in March 1970 with more than 46 air marshals in attendance, and in 1988 HM the Queen Mother unveiled a statue in his honor. With his expert eye, respected historian Orange has analyzed and evaluated every episode of Dowding's exceptional career to produce the definitive biography.

Over the Front, 2008 Striking the Hornets' Nest Geoffrey L. Rossano, Thomas Wildenberg, 2015-10-15 Striking the Hornets' Nest provides the first extensive analysis of the Northern Bombing Group (NBG), the Navy's most innovative aviation initiative of World War I and one of the world's first dedicated strategic bombing programs. Very little has been written about the Navy's aviation activities in World War I, and even less on the NBG. Standard studies of strategic bombing tend to focus on developments in the Royal Air Force or the U.S. Army Air Service. This work concentrates on the origins of strategic bombing in World War I and the influence this phenomenon had on the Navy's future use of the airplane. The NBG program faced enormous logistical and personnel challenges. Demands for aircraft, facilities, and personnel were daunting, and shipping shortages added to the seemingly endless delays in implementing the program. Despite the impediments, the Navy and Marine Corps triumphed over organizational hurdles and established a series of bases and depots in northern France and southern England in the late summer and early fall of 1918.

Ironically by the time the Navy was ready to commence bombing missions the German retreat had caused abandonment of the submarine bases the NBG had been created to attack The men involved in this program were pioneers overcoming major obstacles only to find they were no longer needed Though the Navy rapidly abandoned its use of strategic bombing after World War I their brief experimentation directed the future use of aircraft in other branches of the armed forces It is no coincidence that Robert Lovett the young Navy reserve officer who developed much of the NBG program in 1918 spent the entire period of World War II as Assistant Secretary of War for Air where he played a crucial role organizing and equipping the strategic bombing campaign unleashed against Germany and Japan Rossano and Wildenberg have provided a definitive study of the NBG a subject that has been overlooked for too long The Development of British Naval Aviation, 1914-1918 Alexander Howlett,2021-06-08 The Royal Naval Air Service RNAS revolutionized warfare at sea on land and in the air This little known naval aviation organization introduced and operationalized aircraft carrier strike aerial anti submarine warfare strategic bombing and the air defence of the British Isles more than 20 years before the outbreak of the Second World War Traditionally marginalized in a literature dominated by the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Air Force the RNAS and its innovative practitioners nevertheless shaped the fundamentals of air power and contributed significantly to the Allied victory in the First World War The Development of British Naval Aviation utilizes archival documents and newly published research to resurrect the legacy of the RNAS and demonstrate its central role in Britain s war effort Sopwith Camel Jon Guttman,2012-10-20 An icon of World War I aerial combat the Sopwith Camel was a superb dogfighter in the hands of a pilot who could master its vicious idiosyncrasies The first British fighter to be armed with twin machine guns the Camel packed a considerable punch and was highly successful notching up a considerable number of aerial victories The Camel was a remarkable aircraft and one that could perform in a variety of roles including as a ground straffer a night fighter and a carrier based fighter As newer higher performance aircraft types were introduced and began to eclipse it the dominance of the Camel declined and losses mounted Nevertheless Camels appeared over battlefields throughout the war and beyond notably in the Russian Civil War Billy Bishop VC: Lone Wolf Hunter Peter Kilduff,2014-10-19 A superb look at one of the Great War s most storied combat pilots and his legendary solo missions with never before published photos Barrett Tillman William Avery Bishop is recognized as the British Empire s highest scoring WWI ace credited with seventy two combat victories Overall he ranked behind only Manfred von Richthofen and Ren Fonck This remarkable man s story his personal courage daring and superior marksmanship has been detailed in books and articles but here author Peter Kilduff investigates the untold story bringing new light to missions and kills that have been previously steeped in controversy through evenhanded thorough research and forensic evidence As so many of Bishop s victories were achieved during solo combat the author examines and scrutinizes German British and Canadian archival sources Bishop s private correspondence and accounts by friends and foes Such an approach provides as complete an account as possible in a valuable work featuring many previously unpublished photographs Kilduff is not the first to conduct such an inquiry into Bishop's claim of 72 victories but his book is by far the best researched expertly laid out with photos of the aircraft mentioned by Bishop particularly the German types Kilduff has done a marvelous and subtle job of showing how a real hero became larger than life Aviation History Cross & Cockade Journal, 1984 Nieuport Aircraft of World War One Ray Sanger, 2002 The French firm of Nieuport built some of the most numerous best looking and effective fighting planes of World War I they type 17 and 29 gaining particular fame Ray Sanger's authoritative book covers all these aircraft in detail paying attention to both technical detail and operational use Illustrated throughout with rare photographs this will be an indispensable volume for any World War I aviation library
