Crossing The Color Line Race Parenting And Culture:

Crossing the Color Line Maureen T. Reddy, 1994      Crossing the Color Line: Race, Parenting, and Culture Maureen T. Reddy, 1996      The Morality of Adoption Timothy Patrick Jackson, 2005 The Religion Marriage and Family Series investigates marriage and family as major theological and cultural issues Given that both society and the church have debated these topics intensely but have actually studied them very little this series attempts to correct recent theological neglect of these important matters      Race Mixing Suzanne W. Jones, 2006-02-15 In the southern United States there remains a deep need among both black and white writers to examine the topic of race relations whether they grew up during segregation or belong to the younger generation that graduated from integrated schools In Race Mixing Suzanne Jones offers insightful and provocative readings of contemporary novels the work of a wide range of writers black and white established and emerging Their stories explore the possibilities of cross racial friendships examine the repressed history of interracial love reimagine the Civil Rights era through children's eyes herald the reemergence of the racially mixed character investigate acts of racial violence and interrogate both rural and urban racial dynamics Employing a dynamic model of the relationship between text and context Jones shows how more than thirty relevant writers including Madison Smartt Bell Larry Brown Bebe Moore Campbell Thulani Davis Ellen Douglas Ernest Gaines Josephine Humphreys Randall Kenan Reynolds Price Alice Walker and Tom Wolfe illuminate the complexities of the color line and the problems in defining racial identity today While an earlier generation of black and white southern writers challenged the mythic unity of southern communities in order to lay bare racial divisions Jones finds in the novels of contemporary writers a challenge to the mythic sameness within racial communities and a broader definition of community and identity Closely reading these stories about race in America Race Mixing ultimately points to new ways of thinking about race relations We need these fictions Jones writes to help us imagine our way out of the social structures and mind sets that mythologize the past fragment individuals prejudice people and divide communities      Marcia Muller and the Female Private Eye Alexander N. Howe, Christine A. Jackson, 2014-11-01 In 1977 Marcia Muller invaded the all male domain of detective literature and within a decade was established as the mother of the female hardboiled private eye She is now the author of four detective series including the critically acclaimed Sharon McCone series of more than two dozen novels This collection critically assesses Marcia Muller's writing and reevaluates current critical views on women's detective fiction in general In the first two of the book's three sections essays explore Muller's engagement with modern and postmodern feminism ethnicity and the socially underprivileged The third section focuses on one of Muller's major themes the trauma of history Drawing from the feminist historicist mythic psychoanalytic and cultural approaches found in all three sections the conclusion offers a panoramic perspective on Muller's accomplishments      Rethinking 'Mixed Race' David Parker, Miri Song, 2001-05-20 One of the fastest growing ethnic populations in many Western societies is that of people of mixed descent However when talking about multicultural societies or mixed race the discussion usually focuses on people of black and white heritage The contributors to this collection rectify this with a broad and pluralistic approach to the experiences of mixed race people in Britain and the USA The contributors argue that people of mixed descent reveal the arbitrary and contested logic of categorisation underpinning racial divisions Falling outside the prevailing definitions of racialised identities their histories and experiences illuminate the complexities of identity formation in the contemporary multicultural context The authors examine a range of issues These include gender transracial and intercountry adoptions in Britain and the US interracial partnering and marriage mixed race and family in the English African diaspora theorising of mixed race that transcends the black white binary and includes explorations of mixtures among non white minority groups and the social and political evolution of multiracial panethnicity

Irish Postmodernisms and Popular Culture Wanda Balzano, 2007-05-16 This collection explores popular culture in Ireland and Ireland in popular culture from Fanfic to Orange Parades from boybands to the Blessed Virgin Mary from celebrity tourism to the Gaelic Athletic Association The essays examine local and global Irishness focusing on how gender sexuality and race shape Irish postmodernity

Remaking the Color Line Kimberly Ann DaCosta, 2000

Invisible Privilege Paula S. Rothenberg, 2000 Reviewing the social upheaval of the seventies that challenged fundamental assumptions about gender roles race relations and even the nature of the family Rothenberg tells how she gained a new understanding of what it meant to be an educator and activist

(Dis)claiming Whiteness; Homer Plessy, Tiger Woods, and Racially-transformed Parents Joshua Carter Woodfork, 1999

Race in an Era of Change Heather M. Dalmage, Barbara Katz Rothman, 2011 Featuring a wide range of classic and contemporary selections Race in an Era of Change A Reader is an affordable and timely collection of articles on race and ethnicity in the United States today Opening with coverage of racial formation theory it goes on to cover racial thinking including the challenging and compelling concept of whiteness and the idea of assigned and claimed racial identities The book also discusses the relationships between race and a variety of institutions including healthcare economy and work housing and environment education policing and prison the media and the family and concludes with a section on issues of globalization immigration and citizenship Editors Heather Dalmage and Barbara Katz Rothman have carefully edited the selections so that they will be easily accessible to students A detailed introduction to each article contains questions designed to help students focus as they begin reading In addition each article is followed by a journaling question that encourages students to share their responses to the piece Offering instructors great flexibility for course use the selections can be used in any combination and in any order Race in an Era of Change A Reader is ideal for any undergraduate course on race and ethnicity

Racechanges Susan Gubar, 1997 When the actor Ted Danson appeared in blackface at a 1993 Friars Club roast he ignited a firestorm of protest that landed him on the front pages of the newspapers rebuked by everyone from talk show host Montel Williams to New York City's then mayor

David Dinkins Danson's use of blackface was shocking but was the furious pitch of the response a triumphant indication of how far society has progressed since the days when blackface performers were the toast of vaudeville or was it also an uncomfortable reminder of how deep the chasm still is separating black and white America In Racechanges White Skin Black Face in American Culture Susan Gubar who fundamentally changed the way we think about women's literature as co author of the acclaimed The Madwoman in the Attic turns her attention to the incendiary issue of race Through a far reaching exploration of the long overlooked legacy of minstrelsy cross racial impersonations or racechanges throughout modern American film fiction poetry painting photography and journalism she documents the indebtedness of mainstream artists to African American culture and explores the deeply conflicted psychology of white guilt The fascinating racechanges Gubar discusses include whites posing as blacks and blacks passing for white blackface on white actors in The Jazz Singer Birth of a Nation and other movies as well as on the faces of black stage entertainers African American deployment of racechange imagery during the Harlem Renaissance including the poetry of Anne Spencer the black and white prints of Richard Bruce Nugent and the early work of Zora Neale Hurston white poets and novelists from Vachel Lindsay and Gertrude Stein to John Berryman and William Faulkner writing as if they were black white artists and writers fascinated by hypersexualized stereotypes of black men and nightmares and visions of the racechanged baby Gubar shows that unlike African Americans who often are forced to adopt white masks to gain their rights white people have chosen racial masquerades which range from mockery and mimicry to an evolving emphasis on inter racial mutuality and mutability Drawing on a stunning array of illustrations including paintings film stills computer graphics and even magazine morphings Racechanges sheds new light on the persistent pervasiveness of racism and exciting aesthetic possibilities for lessening the distance between blacks and whites NWSA Journal ,1995 Mother Journeys Maureen T. Reddy,Martha Roth,Amy Sheldon,1994 Mother Journeys Feminists Write About Mothering is a compelling collection of essays stories poems and artwork responding to this request investigating with clarity humor courage and sometimes pain the dual issues of feminism and motherhood

Understanding Toni Morrison's Beloved and *Sula Solomon Ogbede Iyasere,Marla W. Iyasere,2000 Toni Morrison's Beloved is probably the most widely studied work of contemporary fiction both in the United States and abroad The novel appeals to readers across various disciplines as such it is now required reading in courses in English and American literature feminist and multicultural criticism and American history in universities and colleges around the world The novel's universal appeal with its unique structure and compelling story has made it the subject of numerous scholarly essays published in reference journals To make the best of these essays more accessible to university students this book offers a volume of selected essays with a critical introduction and annotated bibliography Feminist Periodicals ,1996 Feminist Studies ,1995
