Crisis And War:

Crisis and War Patrick James, 1988 Using an analysis of patterns of international crisis and war from 1948 to 1975 Patrick James suggests why some international crises result in war while others do not Over one hundred cases are used to assess the three most prominent explanations for crisis escalation to war 1 war is the result of rational choice by leaders who expect to gain from it 2 war is the product of the outward projection of political unrest within states and 3 war is the result of classical balance of power politics James concludes that the best explanations for war include elements from all three categories Between Peace and War Richard Ned Lebow, 1981 Lebow has produced a significant work on international crises and their relationship to international politics His integration of history and international relations theory is particularly laudatory and he draws some important conclusions concerning deterrence theory and crisis management Jerel A Rosati American Political Science Review Handbook of War Studies II Manus I.
