The Ghost in the Universe Taner Edis, 2002 Emphasizing the results of natural science physicist Taner Edis takes a fresh look at an age old question Is there a God or a spiritual reality beyond nature Book Review Index , 2003 Vols 8 10 of the 1965 1984 master cumulation constitute a title index Comptes Rendus Philosophiques , 1997 Consciousness & Healing Marilyn Schlitz, Tina Amorok, Marc S. Micozzi, 2005 This collection of essays on integral medicine consciousness and healing integrates mainstream medical knowledge with recent developments in the emerging areas of frontier sciences and insights from alternative healing perspectives It promotes a model of healing in which personal relationships emotions meaning and belief systems are viewed as fundamental points of connection between body mind spirit society and nature Integral medicine embraces the recognition that human beings possess emotional spiritual and relational dimensions that are essential in the diagnosis and treatment of disease and the cultivation of wellness Readers learn from the leaders in the emerging field of integral medicine and consciousness research from the most well known Deepak Chopra to the frontline policy makers James Gordon one of the heads of the White House Commission on Conventional and Complementary and Alternative Medicine Readers also gain insights from health professionals who have experienced healing within themselves and witnessed remarkable healing in their patients We hear from other medical professionals through the essays and the interviews on the accompanying DVD who approach medicine from an array of cultural perspectives and can attest to this multicultural interdisciplinary and participatory healing system in action Consciousness and Healing contains 47 essays in the book plus 9 bonus essays read aloud on the DVD Essays are short and in language suited to an audience of both lay and professional readers with extensive references on the DVD to original scientific studies for those interested in further exploration The most comprehensive and authoritative collection of work on the subject of healing Joins subjective mind body experiences with evidence based research Comprehensive view of healing as a complex system something few texts do from such an interdisciplinary multidimensional and scientific perspective The editors build on over 30 years of research in the area of mind body medicine and consciousness The DVD packaged with this product contains 50 minutes of video interviews with many of the high profile leaders who contribute to this book as well as practitioners in the medical field who do not contribute to this book but who do subscribe to its philosophy It also contains 9 essays read aloud that are not in the book

References and the book's table of contents are on the DVD in Microsoft Word format. Essays are written in a conversational style allowing the thoughts of the contributors on the transformation of medicine to be projected in their own voice. Editors and contributors are on the forefront of the field of integrative medicine. Subject is timely: this book takes CAM one step further by providing physicians with a vision for the future.

An Illusion of Harmony Taner Edis, 2007. Current discussions in the West on the relation of science and religion focus mainly on science's uneasy relationship with the traditional Judeo-Christian view of life. But a parallel controversy exists in the Muslim world regarding ways to integrate science with Islam. As physicist Taner Edis shows in this fascinating glimpse into contemporary Muslim culture, a good deal of popular writing in Muslim societies attempts to address such perplexing questions as: Is Islam a scientific religion? Were the discoveries of modern science foreshadowed in the Quran? Are intelligent design conjectures more appealing to the Muslim perspective than Darwinian explanations? Edis examines the range of Muslim thinking about science and Islam from blatantly pseudoscientific fantasies to comparatively sophisticated efforts to Islamize science. From the world's strongest creationist movements to bizarre science in the Quran, apologetics popular Muslim approaches promote a view of natural science as a mere fact-collecting activity that coexists in near-perfect harmony with literal-minded faith. Since Muslims are keenly aware that science and technology have been the keys to Western success, they are eager to harness technology to achieve a Muslim version of modernity. Yet at the same time, they are reluctant to allow science to become independent of religion and are suspicious of Western secularization. Edis examines all of these conflicting trends, revealing the difficulties facing Muslim societies trying to adapt to the modern technological world. His discussions of both the parallels and the differences between Western and Muslim attempts to harmonize science and religion make for a unique and intriguing contribution to this continuing debate.

Environmental Ethics: Divergence and Convergence Susan J. Armstrong, Richard G. Botzler, 2003-08-28

Dead But Not Lost Robert Goss, Dennis Klass, 2005. The dead are still with us. Contemporary therapists and counselors are coming to understand what's been known for millennia in most religions and in most cultures outside the Western milieu: it's important to continue bonds between the living and the dead. Taking these connections seriously, Goss and Klass explore how bonds with the dead are created and maintained. In doing so, they unearth a fascinating new way to look at the origins and processes of religion itself. Examining ties to dead family members, teachers, religious and political leaders across religious and secular traditions, the authors offer novel ways of understanding grief and its role in creating meaning. Whether for classes in comparative religion and death and dying or for bereavement counselors and others trying to make sense of grief, this book helps us understand what it means to feel connected to those dead but not lost.
