

An aerial photograph of a vast, terraced landscape, likely a river valley. The terraces are arranged in a complex, winding pattern, creating a mosaic of light and dark patches. A river or stream flows through the center of the valley. In the background, a city with numerous buildings is visible on a hillside, and mountains rise in the distance. The entire image has a monochromatic teal or cyan tint.

Discipline And Development Middle Classes And Prosperity In East Asia And Latin America:

Discipline and Development Diane E. Davis, 2004-03-22 Perhaps the most commonly held assumption in the field of development is that middle classes are the bounty of economic modernization and growth As countries gradually transcend their agrarian past and become urbanized and industrialized so the logic goes middle classes emerge and gain in number complexity cultural influence social prominence and political authority Yet this is only half the story Middle classes shape industrial and economic development they are not merely its product the particular ways in which middle classes shape themselves and the ways historical conditions shape them influence development trajectories in multiple ways This is the story of South Korea s and Taiwan s economic successes and Argentina s and Mexico s relative failures through an examination of their rural middle classes and disciplinary capacities Can disciplining continue in a context where globalization squeezes middle classes and frees capitalists from the state and social contracts in which they have been embedded

Political Power and Social Theory Julian Go, 2010-12-07 Helps in advancing our interdisciplinary critical understanding of the linkages between social relations political power and historical development This title contains a section on the politics of the new middle class in the global south and post socialist societies

Digital Activism and the Global Middle Class Lukas Schlogl, 2022-06-16 This book examines the causes of a growing wave of digital activism across developing countries arguing that it is driven by social change rather than technological advancement alone Beginning with an investigation into the modernization of middle income countries and its ramifications for political culture the book examines large scale social media protest during political controversies in Indonesia The book connects empirical evidence to classic theories of value change and political behaviour It departs from a narrow digital divide framing whereby Internet access produces Internet activism It introduces the concepts of digital self expression and of middle class struggles to capture the value stratified nature of political engagement in the online sphere Drawing on a blend of big data text analyses representative opinion research and socioeconomic household analyses a rich picture of the determinants of digital activism emerges This truly cross disciplinary book will appeal particularly to students and scholars in Political Science Sociology International Development and Communication but also to anyone eager to learn about political activism social transformation and new media from a global perspective

The Global Bourgeoisie Christof DeJung, David Motadel, Jürgen Osterhammel, 2019-11-26 This essay collection presents a global history of the middle class and its rise around the world during the age of empire It compares middle class formation in various regions highlighting differences and similarities and assesses the extent to which bourgeois growth was tied to the increasing exchange of ideas and goods and was a result of international connections and entanglements Grouped by theme the book shows how bourgeois values can shape the liberal world order

The Middle Class in Neo-Urban India Smriti Singh, 2023-11-17 This book critically examines the new middle class and the emergence of neo urban spaces in India within the context of rapid urbanisation and changing socio spatial dynamics in urban areas in the country It looks at class as a socio spatial category where class distinction is tied to and manifests itself through the space of the city With a detailed ethnographic study of the national capital region of Delhi especially Gurugram it explores themes such as class subjectivity morality and social beliefs life inside gated enclaves family and everyday practices of class reproduction and the process of othering and exclusivity among others Class identity vulnerability and hierarchy influence the actions and motivations of the middle class The author studies the nuances and socio political fractures stemming from the complex dynamic of class caste religion and gender that manifest in these neo urban spaces and how these shape the city and community Rich in empirical resources this book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of sociology political sociology ethnography urban sociology urban studies and South Asian studies

Rethinking Class and Social Difference Barry Eidlin, Michael A. McCarthy, 2020-09-30 This volume draws together scholars rethinking social scientific and theoretical approaches to a wide range of forms of social difference and inequality These include race nationalism sexuality professional classes domestic employment digital communication and uneven economic development
