

What is the right to disconnect and how will it impact you?

The right to disconnect permits employees to refuse to monitor, read or respond to contact or attempted contact from their employer or a third party related to their work (eg a client) outside of working hours unless it is unreasonable for the employee to refuse.

What might be considered in determining whether refusal is unreasonable:

The FWC may hear disputes about the right to disconnect and it will also be a protected right under the general protections* regime of the FW Act. (Most employees will have this right from August 2024)

What should employers be doing to prepare?

- Reviewing and updating employment contracts, policies and procedures
- Training people managers and employees

Disconnect Morris P. Fiorina, Samuel J. Abrams, 2012-11-09 Red states blue states are we no longer the United States Morris P Fiorina here examines today s party system to reassess arguments about party polarization while offering a cogent overview of the American electorate Building on the arguments of Fiorina s acclaimed Culture War The Myth of a Polarized America this book explains how contemporary politics differs from that of previous eras and considers what might be done to overcome the unproductive politics of recent decades Drawing on polling results and other data Fiorina examines the disconnect between an unrepresentative political class and the citizenry it purports to represent showing how politicians have become more polarized while voters remain moderate how politicians rhetoric and activities reflect hot button issues that are not public priorities and how politicians dogmatic divisive and uncivil style of debate contrasts with the more civil discourse of ordinary Americans who tend to be more polite and open to compromise than their leaders Disconnect depicts politicians out of touch with the larger public distorting issues and information to appeal to narrow interest groups It can help readers better understand the political divide between leaders and the American public and help steer a course for change
