Making Connections Kathleen M. Galvin, 2006 The Fourth Edition has been updated expanded and reorganized to reflect the changing field of relational communication. New essays address emerging topics such as anti-comforting messages, friendship in urban tribes, and discourse-dependent families. The new edition also contains a new section on the dark side of communication with articles on topics such as lying and irresolvable conflicts. Three out of four of the essays in the technology section are new, reflecting current thinking in Internet-based interpersonal relationships, communication norms in an online support group, and how student use of technology challenges existent communication theories. A complete subject index has been added. The book also features a new accompanying Instructor's Manual. Between basic communication competencies and relationships, feature a developmental approach in terms of initiating, sustaining, and ending relationships, and reflect direct applications of relational issues within contexts of family, friendship, and technology. Explore issues relating to computer-mediated communication and new technologies in everyday life. The editors, Galvin and Cooper, maintain a similar framework as featured in previous editions, using gender, family, and culture as lenses through which to view and make sense of relational communication.

Beginning with a review of the theory and pedagogic practices that have been influential in English for Academic Purposes (EAP) contexts, this book examines the practice of joint construction in a genre-based approach to literacy pedagogy. It investigates how teachers guide students to co-construct a text, drawing attention to the contested rationale for teachers taking a leading role when writing collaboratively with their students. Informed by systemic functional linguistics, the book puts forward an accessible approach to the analysis of classroom discourse that centres on the dynamic mediation of meaning. Through examples of classroom interaction involving international students who are studying EAP and specifically as preparation for university entrance, it illuminates how classroom metalanguage and the organisation of classroom talk enables teachers to guide but not provide wording. Metalanguage also enables students to critique and justify their choices as they try out new academic language, modify and improve their writing.
