Discovering Hedgerows:

Discovering Hedgerows David Streeter, Rosamond Richardson, 1982      Discovering Hedgerows David Streeter, Rosamond Richardson, 1982      Hedgerow History Gerry Barnes, Tom Williamson, 2008-01-01 Oxbow says For many years hedges have been the most common field boundary in rural Britain providing a stock proof barrier a field boundary and a haven for wildlife Despite this they are rarely studied in any detail in landscape archaeology The authors of Hedgerow History rightly argue that hedges as an essential feature of the landscape their origins and development are as worthy of study as any other part of the landscape Their book focuses on the species content and diversity of hedges how these came about and how they changed over time The introduction provides the background to hedges in Britain the development of field boundaries changes in fields and farming especially the impact of enclosure hedgerow management and methods of dating hedges In an attempt to evaluate the pioneering work of Hooper and Pollard in the 1960s and 1970s and gain insights into the diversity of hedges and the possible human and animal reasons for it Barnes and Williamson carried out a detailed survey of hedgerows in Norfolk Finding 61 shrub species among the Norfolk hedgerows they attempt to tie this data in with evidence on geology soils climate woodland enclosure farming practices and historical factors as an indicator of the processes of continuity and change that have taken place in the wider landscape      Hedgelands Christopher Hart, 2024-04-18 Longlisted for the James Cropper Wainwright Prize 2024 for Nature Writing Delightful Hedgelands is a merry exposition on the history and biology of these unique ecosystems and a very good argument as to why we should re engage with the hedge The Wall Street Journal Hart s passion for the potential that resides here is intoxicating Occasionally an environmental solution comes along that is so breathtakingly simple you can t believe that not everyone is already doing it Sunday Times A joyously readable book it riffs along like breeze in the hedgerow John Lewis Stempel in Country Life On this joyous journey around the wild edges of Britain celebrated author Christopher Hart takes us through the life ecology and history of the humble countryside hedge and how it is inextricably woven into our language landscape and culture Hedges or hedgerows have long been an integral part of the British landscape An ancient human made boundary hedgerows have become a critically important haven for wildlife and are now being recognised as one of the greatest edge habitats on Earth Britain boasts 400 000 kilometres of hedgerows but has lost 50 per cent of them since the Second World War and their slow deterioration today is becoming a huge threat to the ecosystem In Hedgelands Christopher Hart shares the history of the hedge highlighting the hawthorn and hazel of ancient hedgerows and reveals its abundance of wildlife from the elusive dunnoek to the iconic nightingale the industrious hedgehog to the miniscule harvest mouse He demonstrates how this true environmental hero and powerful climate ally can help rebuild species rich resilient havens for birds mammals and insects Hedges play a vital role in mature woodland grassland and even wetland all of which can offer us much needed ecological diversity and carbon sequestration Through rewilding a patch of land in southwest England Christopher shows us how easy joyful and rewarding it is to restore even the smallest stretch of hedge Whether you live in the country or the city Hedgelands shares how simple actions can make a huge difference to the future of our precious hedges and environment What s good for us is good for nature and what s good for nature is good for us And nowhere is this more true than in the bustling flourishing flowering fruiting and altogether glorious native British hedge Christopher Hart      The Batsford Companion to Local History Stephen Friar,1991 An encyclopedic A Z of British local history archaeology architecture and topography covering every aspect of our heritage This book should prove of interest to amateur historians ramblers browsers and professional historians Stephen Friar is a writer and former head teacher who specializes in the topics of heraldry and local history He is also the author of A New Dictionary of Heraldry      Discovering Northumberland Thomas H. Rowland,1973      Insect Life ,1894      The World Who's who of Women ,1990      Wildlife ,1983      Closing with the Enemy Michael Dale Doubler,1994 This study picks up where D Day leaves off From Normandy through the breakout in France to the German Army s last gasp in the Battle of the Bulge Michael Doubler deals with the deadly business of war closing with the enemy fighting and winning battles taking and holding territory His study provides a reassessment of how American GIs accomplished these dangerous and costly tasks      A Discovered Country Mary Hall Leonard,1900      The American Botanist ,1922 A monthly journal for the plant lover      The Listener ,1982      Children's Book Review Index ,1985

Discovering Green Lanes Valerie Belsey,2001 This is the essential handbook for anyone interested in green lanes Valerie Belsey shows how to identify them on the ground how to recognise them on antique maps and how to locate documents and other records which will reveal who used them in past times She also discusses their ecological value the current controversy about who should be able to use them and how to get involved in restoring and protecting lanes in your area Discovering Green Lanes includes useful contact information key dates in highway history and sample survey forms for recording wildlife in your local green lane      Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1983      Roman Antiquities Recently Discovered on the Site of the National Safe Deposit Company's Premises, Mansion House, London John Edward Price,John Henry Puleston,1873      PPC ,1983      The Naturalist ,1903      Children's Book Review Index: Title index ,1985
