

The background of the slide features a close-up, artistic photograph. In the upper half, a fountain pen with a silver-colored nib and a dark, textured barrel lies horizontally. Below the pen, in the lower right corner, is a vintage-style compass with a brass or gold-colored rim and a black frame. The compass is open, showing its internal needle and markings. The entire scene is set against a background of an old, weathered map with brown and tan tones and dark, winding lines representing geographical features. The lighting is soft, creating a scholarly and historical atmosphere.
