Discrimination And Human Rights The Case Of Racism:

Discrimination and Human Rights Sandra Fredman, Philip Alston, Gráinne de Búrca, 2001 This set of essays provides an important contribution to the debate about the role of human rights law in combating racism The first essay examines the right to equality in the context of racism drawing on a wide range of international and comparative sources to create a critical framework of analysis The second essay locates the discussion within the context of multi culturalism ethnicity and group rights with specific reference to ethnicity within Europe The next set of essays is concerned with international instruments to address racism followed by a critical examination of the newly developed race discrimination directive at EU level The particular problem of race hatred on the internet is examined in the seventh chapter followed by an important discussion of enforcement and remedial structures The Development of Legal Instruments to Combat Racism in a Diverse Europe Jan Niessen, Isabelle Chopin, 2004-01-01 Europe has come a long way at least in the institutional response to racism This book describes the responses of the Council of Europe and the European Union to the worrying trends of racism and xenophobia in the 1990s and considers the prospects for combating discrimination in Europe using tools that have emerged as a result Part one looks at the evolution of the Council of Europe apparatus to combat discrimination and the anti discrimination standards prescribed by its institutions Part two considers the legislative measures recently adopted by the European Union The contributions in Part three take a comparative perspective of all measures adopted at European level to combat racial and ethnic discrimination Honour Among Nations? Marcia Langton, Maureen Tehan, Lisa Palmer, Kathryn Shain, 2004-06-03 This important collection emerges from the growing academic and public policy interest in the area of Indigenous peoples treaties and agreements challenging readers to engage with the idea of treaty and agreement making in changing political and legal landscapes Honour Among Nations contains contributions from both Indigenous and non Indigenous authors from Australia New Zealand and North America including Marcia Langton Gillian Triggs Joe Williams Paul Chartrand and Noel Pearson It features a preface by Sir Anthony Mason This book covers topics as diverse as treaty and agreement making in Australia New Zealand and British Columbia land the law political rights and Indigenous peoples maritime agreements health governance and jurisdiction race discrimination in Australia the Timor Sea Treaty copyright and intellectual property issues for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander authors Honour Among Nations makes a significant contribution to international debates on Indigenous peoples rights treaties and agreement making Sur International Journal on Human Rights, 2006 Unveiling Whiteness in the Twenty-First Century Veronica Watson, Deirdre Howard-Wagner, Lisa Spanierman, 2014-12-23 Unveiling Whiteness in the Twenty First Century Global Manifestations Transdisciplinary Interventions is a tightly interconnected and richly collaborative book that will advance our understanding of why it is so difficult to re form and reimagine whiteness in the twenty first century Composed after the election of the first black U S president post global financial crisis more than a decade after 9 11 and concomitant with a rash of xenophobic incidents across the globe the book distills several key themes associated with a post millennial global whiteness the individual and collective emotions of whiteness the recentering of whiteness through governing and legal strategies and the retreats from social equity and justice that have characterized the late twentieth and twenty first century nation state It also attempts the difficult work of reimagining white identities and cultures for a new era Chapters in Unveiling Whiteness in the Twenty First Century draw from the fields of African American studies English studies media studies philosophy political science psychology sociology education and women s studies Using transdisciplinarity as a mode of inquiry for the project and responding to the changing phenomenon of whiteness across several continents Australia Canada France Romania South Africa Sweden and the United States the collection brings together established and emerging scholars and a range of critical approaches to unveil and intervene in the ideologies of whiteness in our contemporary moment Unveiling Whiteness in the Twenty First Century demonstrates that complex inquiry and activism are needed to challenge new iterations of whiteness in twenty first century political and social spaces

Race, Ethnicity, Gender and Human Rights in the Americas Celina Romany,2001 Gender, Race, and Power Joyce P. Kaufman,Kristen P. Williams,2024-10-02 Kaufman and Williams present critical issues in international relations through an intersectional approach that examines race gender class ethnicity and power to arrive at better explanations for such core IR issues as war and peace security human rights development and international political economy and the global environment Their approach builds on early calls amongst feminist IR theorists imploring Where are the women It is only fairly recently that students of IR have broadened the approach to the field to incorporate the dimensions of race ethnicity and class as well as gender Kaufman and Williams help guide readers exploring questions like How does gender matter for understanding war and peace How does race matter Where are the men What is intersectionality in IR How does an intersectional approach change or broaden our understanding of international relations

Law, Lawyers and Race Mathias Möschel,2014-09-15 Critical Race Theory CRT is virtually unheard of in European scholarship especially among legal scholars Law Lawyers and Race Critical Race Theory from the United States to Europe endeavours to fill this gap by providing an overview of the definition and consequences of CRT developed in American scholarship and describing its transplantation and application in the continental European context The CRT approach adopted in this book illustrates the reasons why the relationship between race and law in European civil law jurisdictions is far from anodyne Law plays a critical role in the construction subordination and discrimination against racial minorities in Europe making it comparable albeit in slightly different ways to the American experience of racial discrimination Anti-Semitism Islamophobia anti Roma and anti Black racism constitute a fundamental factor often tacitly accepted in the relationship between law and race in Europe Consequently the broadly shared anti race and anti racist position is problematic because it acts to the detriment of victims of racism while privileging the White Christian male majority This book is an original exploration of the relationship between law and race As such it crosses the disciplinary divide furthering both legal scholarship and research in Race and Ethnicity Studies Cultural Diversity and the Law Marie-Claire Foblets, Jean-François Gaudreault-DesBiens, Alison Dundes Renteln, 2010 The Oxford Handbook of International Refugee Law Cathryn Costello, Michelle Foster, Jane McAdam, 2021 Provides a state of the art comprehensive analysis of the field of international refugee law Global in scope with 10 chapters focusing in detail on specific regions Critiques the status quo and sets the agenda for future academic research Book jacket Civil Rights and Race Relations in the Post Reagan-Bush Era Samuel L. Myers, 1997-11-30 Insightful essays from leading scholars and writers on civil rights and race relations focus on the retrenchment from the ideal of racial equality A common theme emerges the new civil rights agenda must embrace radically different perspectives in order to be successful in eradicating racial and ethnic economic inequality This volume combines insightful essays from leading scholars and writers on civil rights and race relations with provocative discussions by business professionals and community leaders on retrenchment from the ideal of racial equality It reviews what Americans really think about race and race relations while providing definitive assessments of the status of affirmative action The writers put forth convincing evidence that white privilege lies at the root of both current racial inequality and opposition to conventional approaches to remedying inequality The essays provide a backdrop for understanding the reversals in support of remedies to racial and ethnic inequality and for understanding why the new agenda that must be forged will need to account for the changing demographics of the minority population Essays in the volume also underscore how major demographic shifts and economic transformations have conspired with political reversals to make the agenda of the 1960s and 1970s civil rights movement obsolete Any new approach to racial and ethnic inequality must account both for the coloring of America and the persistence and entrenchment of white racism The book's final assessment will be of great interest to opinion leaders and officials as well as researchers and scholars in political science economics sociology and Black Studies Whitewashing Race Michael K. Brown, Martin Carnoy, Elliott Currie, Troy Duster, David B. Oppenheimer, 2003-09-18 White Americans abetted by neo conservative writers of all hues generally believe that racial discrimination is a thing of the past and that any racial inequalities that undeniably persist in wages family income access to housing or health care can be attributed to African Americans cultural and individual failures If the experience of most black Americans says otherwise an explanation has been sorely lacking or obscured by the passions the issue provokes At long last offering a cool clear and informed perspective on the subject this book brings together a team of highly respected sociologists political scientists economists criminologists and legal scholars to scrutinize the logic and evidence behind the widely held belief in a color blind society and to provide an alternative explanation for continued racial inequality in the United States While not denying the economic advances of black Americans since the 1960s Whitewashing Race draws on new and compelling research to demonstrate the persistence of racism and the effects of organized racial advantage across many institutions in American society including the labor market the welfare state the criminal justice system and schools and universities Looking beyond the stalled debate over current antidiscrimination policies the authors also put forth a fresh vision for achieving genuine racial equality of opportunity in a post affirmative action world Challenging Racism Barry Clarke,2003 This is an accessible layperson s guide to using the new Human Rights Act to pursue cases involving racial discrimination Race Relations and the Law Tannis Cohen,Canadian Jewish Congress,1988 Fighting Discrimination in Europe Mathias Möschel,Costanza Hermanin,Michele Grigolo,2013-09-13 The member states of the EU have only very recently begun to consider race and racism in the framework of equality legislation and policies As opposed to an established Anglo Saxon tradition of naming races and using racial categorisation to fight racism most continental European countries resist this approach This book investigates the problematic reception and elaboration of race as a socio legal category in Europe Fighting Discrimination in Europe takes a fresh and interdisciplinary look at the normative theoretical and concrete problems raised by the challenge of devising and enforcing policies to combat race discrimination in Europe It engages with the juridical and political spheres from the international level down to concrete cases of state and city policies As the multifaceted relationship between race discrimination and immigration is explored new normative positions and practical approaches are developed and new questions raised This collection presents important new research for academics researchers and advanced students of Ethnic Studies Migration Studies Legal Studies Sociology Anthropology and Policy Studies This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies The Politics of Race in Canada Augie Fleras,Maria Wallis,2009 This engaging new anthology brings together important selections that have informed debates and generated controversies about race and ethnicity from the nineteenth century onwards Using an interdisciplinary approach the collection demonstrates and analyzes a transition from Canada s early focus on ethnicity to the current proliferation of sophisticated analyses of race as a concept Resistances to traditional thinking about race and ethnicity by academics and activist communities are also discussed The text demonstrates that despite claims of race neutrality as a preferred ideal Canada is actually a racialized society race remains a key variable in influencing people s identities experiences and outcomes Proceedings of the Standing Senate Committee on Legal and Constitutional Affairs Canada.
