Disease And The Compensation Debate:

Disease and the Compensation Debate Jane Stapleton, John Stapleton, 1986 This book looks anew at the tort remedy and reform proposals surrounding the modern debate on compensation for personal injuries Arguing that serious distortions underlie the debate because of its focus on victims of traumatic accidents the author calls for the consideration of other legally neglected but highly publicized sources of disability including man made health hazards such as asbestos tobacco and Agent Orange and socially spread diseases such as AIDS This ground breaking study demonstrates that attention to such crucial issues explodes much of the conventional wisdom about just how to tackle reform and reveals that a fundamental rethinking of the compensation debate is urgently needed Torts on Three Continents Kylie Burns, Jodi Gardner, Jonathan

Morgan, Sandy Steel, 2024-08-06 Professor Jane Stapleton is one of the world's leading experts on causation and has had a profound impact on tort law scholarship both in terms of the incredible range of topics she has contributed to and across the multiple countries she has worked in Torts on Three Continents Honouring Jane Stapleton brings together a group of scholars from Stapleton's home country Australia from the United Kingdom where she spent much of her professional career and the United States where she has made such a significant contribution to celebrate and honour her work Torts on Three Continents reveals the impressive and enviable breadth of Jane Stapleton's scholarship while contributing to many of the ongoing and traditional debates in tort The volume is split into four parts The first part focuses on general themes that arise in Stapleton's work including the academic influence on judges the role of insurance in compensation the impact of vulnerability on tort law and liability of public authorities The second part considers aspects of liability in the tort of negligence including duties of care for psychiatric harm The third part is dedicated completely to causation with three chapters from authors in three different countries reflecting on the impact of Stapleton's work in this area The final section covers a variety of different aspects of tort law and compensation systems including harms committed in the public interest damage in economic torts statutory product liability reforms and alternative compensation scheme design Powerful and thought provoking this book will provide its readers with an appreciation of the magnitude of Jane Stapleton's contribution across the common law world and a novel perspective on some of the more modern challenges faced in tort law Revised Record of the Constitutional Convention of the State of New York New York (State).
