Crisis And Opportunity In The Professions:

Crisis and Opportunity in the Professions Moses L. Pava, Patrick Primeaux, 2005-10-27 In almost every profession a conflict of interest exists between the push of the organization's goals on the one hand and the pull of professional standards and values on the other hand This book aims to identify describe and understand these conflicts of interests in a variety of professional fields Opportunities and Challenges of Interprofessional Collaboration and Education Jill

Thistlethwaite, Peter Musaeus, Martina Mueller-Schilling, Sophie Schlosser, 2024-04-01 Interprofessional collaboration is essential in meeting today's health challenges which demand high flexibility and innovation Many health organizations including the World Health Organization WHO demand that interprofessional collaboration should be taught and learned globally Even so interprofessional education tools have not yet been widely implemented in the curricula of medical professions incl physicians nurses pharmacists physiotherapists etc this training usually takes place separately Collaboration is necessary in health professions education as it can allow professionals to increase their skills and help them achieve more than they would at an individual level Collaboration also allows for more open minded approaches when facing new ways of thinking When knowledge is shared healthcare employees are more encouraged to share their own ideas and concerns These achievements of interprofessionalism within health profession education not only benefit the student and employee but also optimize patient care and increase patient safety Productivity can also be increased and therefore reduce costs overall

The Power of Professional Learning Networks: Traversing the present; transforming the future Chris Brown, Graham Handscomb, 2022-07-27 Now more than ever it seems that the age of professional learning networks has well and truly arrived The rise and proliferation of digital communication coupled with the circumstances enforced during the pandemic experience have led to a dynamic re imagining of Professional Learning Networks PLNs both in terms of what they are for and what they can achieve Set against this context this book provides a stimulating insight into the current state of the art of professional learning networks and the transformative difference they are poised to make to our educational future Drawing on a wealth of expertise each chapter is written by leading thinkers and doers in the field and covers a range of topics and emerging areas These include the professional learning vistas opened up through digital opportunities how these networks have helped to enhance teachers identity and sense of well being the new sense of practitioner ownership and partnership now at the heart of PLNs new openings for professionalization how PLNs have become vehicles for radically different forms of professional development and learning and what this all means for school leadership Ethics and the Profession of
