Innovations in Older Adult Care and Health Service Management: A Focus on the Asia-Pacific Region Madhan Balasubramanian, Angie Shafei, Zhanming Liang, 2024-02-14 Population aging is a consistent global demographic trend. The growth in both the size and proportion of older adults has threatened the sustainability of health systems in meeting healthcare needs of the population. Countries in the Asia Pacific Region may face even more complex health system challenges due to the diversity in culture, management and leadership styles, composition of health service provision, investment in research infrastructure and innovation, adaptation, data availability and gaps in information technology. The Asia Pacific is home to more than half of the world's population and comprises countries across five Asia Pacific subregions: East and North East Asia, North and Central Asia, Pacific South East Asia, South and South West Asia. The economies are diverse including six high income countries such as Australia, Brunei, Japan, New Zealand, South Korea and Singapore, low income countries Nepal and North Korea, and middle income countries. The region also includes some of the fastest growing economies in the world including China, India, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia and the Philippines.
