Henry, 2023-06-29 This book explores the issues faced by immigrant children through the lens of children's literature. The authors employ the UN convention of the Rights of the Child, the lens of equity and Freire's principles of critical consciousness as a framework for analysing children's literature and immigration. They focus on circumstances and experiences of immigration from the perspective of young children who are leaving their homelands and growing up as immigrants. The book focuses primarily on children from birth to 8 years old but with crossover and implications for older children. The chapters reveal the social, economic and political issues faced by child immigrants, refugees and asylees throughout the global context, viewed through and alongside children's literature. The book provides suggestions for the implementation of children's literature in the curriculum and provides tools for educators and researchers working with immigrant and refugee children, showing how they can better understand their students and families. A variety of children's literature is covered, including analysis of works by Jairo Buitrago, Yanksook Choi, Sandra leGuen, Rosemary McCartney, Bao Phi and Jeanette Winter.

Teaching Children's Literature Christine Leland, Mitzi Lewison, Jerome Charles Harste, 2013. Offers a fresh perspective on how to implement children's literature across the curriculum in ways that are both effective and purposeful. It invites multiple ways of engaging with literature that extend beyond the genre and elements approach and also addresses potential problems or issues that teachers may confront.

Handbook of Early Childhood Literacy Nigel Hall, Joanne Larson, Jackie Marsh, 2003-10-18. This volume examines early literacy research on a global scale and puts social, cultural and historical analyses in the front seat without losing sight of individual and family level matters in the process. It is comprehensive, ground breaking and provocative and should help literacy researchers to think differently about the field.

Marjorie Faulstich Orellana, School of Education and Social Policy, Northwestern University. No other publication that I am aware of brings together views from such diverse disciplines contributing to a comprehensive statement about early childhood literacy. The Handbook not only reviews the current field of situated literacy but presents some important and exciting new research. It is a significant resource that promises to become a landmark text.

Eve Bearne, University of Cambridge, Faculty of Education, U.K. This handbook brings together an astonishing array of writers who explore contemporary political, cultural and cognitive understandings of early childhood literacy. Literacy and literacy acquisition are broadly defined here to encompass not just traditional notions of reading and writing but multimodalities, multiliteracies and critical literacies. It is rich and comprehensive, an invaluable resource for scholars, educators and students of early childhood literacy.

Elsa Auerbach, Professor of English, University of Massachusetts Boston. This book is unique in its broad consideration of topics and its global focus. I particularly appreciate how the editors have situated current research in an historical context. They have also included development issues, pedagogy research and the newest areas of interest: critical literacy and popular culture.

Diane Barone, University of Nevada, Reno. In recent years there has been a virtual revolution in early childhood studies with a mass of books and papers seeking to re-examine and reposition childhood. At the same time, an equally significant area has developed within literacy studies reflecting a growing interest in the nature of literacy as a socially situated phenomenon There is increased interest in literacy as a multimodal concept in which symbolic meaning is a central concept rather than more conventional and narrower notions of literacy The Handbook of Early Childhood Literacy is central in providing access to all these different perspectives The Handbook offers a way through the vast diversity of publications on early childhood literacy by providing comprehensive and up to date reviews of research and thinking in early childhood literacy The arrangement of chapters reflects a contemporary perspective on research into early childhood literacy Major sections include the global world of early childhood literacy childhood literacy and family community and culture the development of literacy in early childhood pedagogy and early childhood literacy and researching early childhood literacy Contributions by leading authorities focus on literacy as a socially situated and global experience one that is evolving in relation to changes in contemporary culture and technological innovation
