Critical Perspectives On Leon Gontran Damas:

Critical Perspectives on Léon-Gontran Damas Keith Q. Warner, 1988 Voices of Negritude in Modernist Print
Carrie Noland, 2015-04-28 Carrie Noland approaches Negritude as an experimental text based poetic movement developed by diasporic authors of African descent through the means of modernist print culture Engaging primarily the works of Aimé Césaire and Léon-Gontran Damas Noland shows how the demands of print culture alter the personal voice of each author transforming an empirical subjectivity into a hybrid textual entity that she names after Theodor Adorno an aesthetic subjectivity This aesthetic subjectivity transmitted by the words on the page must be actualized performed reiterated and created anew by each reader at each occasion of reading Lyric writing and lyric reading therefore attenuate the link between author and phenomenized voice Yet the Negritude poem insists upon its connection to lived experience even as it emphasizes its printed form Ironically a purely formalist reading would have to ignore the ways formal and not merely thematic elements point toward the poem's own conditions of emergence Blending archival research on the historical context of Negritude with theories of the lyric voice Noland argues that Negritude poems present a challenge to both form based deconstructive theories and identity based theories of poetic representation Through close readings she reveals that the racialization of the author places pressure on a lyric regime of interpretation obliging us to reconceptualize the relation of author to text in poetries of the first person Through a Black Veil E. Anthony Hurley, 2000 Investigates the diverse poetic manifestations of a sensibility that may be designated as French Caribbean through a close reading of a representative sample of poems Many are presented here in translation for the first time Leon-Gontran Damas Femi Ojo-Ade, 1993 Undoubtedly an initiator and one of the most outstanding poets of the Negritude movement Damas is the least known of the three the other two being Senghor and Césaire The author places Damas' Pigments as the first and most innovative text of his generation The book was banned and burned in the French colonies of West Africa because of its advocacy to Africans to resist French conscription in the Second World War Encyclopedia of the Harlem Renaissance: A-J Cary D. Wintz, Paul Finkelman, 2004 An interdisciplinary look at the Harlem Renaissance it includes essays on the principal participants those who defined the political intellectual and cultural milieu in which the Renaissance existed on important events and places

Critical Perspectives on Derek Walcott Robert D. Hamner, 1993 Ka Osi So Onye: African Philosophy in the Postmodern Era Jonathan Chimakonam, Edwin Etieyibo, 2018-02-28 This collection is about composing thought at the level of modernism and decomposing it at the postmodern level where many voices might crow with African philosophy as a focal point It has two parts part one is titled The Journey of Reason in African Philosophy and part two is titled African Philosophy and Postmodern Thinking There are seven chapters in both parts Five of the essays are reprinted here as important selections while nine are completely new essays commissioned for this book As their titles suggest in part one African philosophy is unfolded in the manifestation of reason as embedded in modern thought while in part two it draws the effect of reason as implicated in the postmodern orientation While part one strikes at what V Y Mudimbe calls the colonising structure or the Greco European logo phallo euro centricism in thought part two bashes the excesses of modernism and partly valorises postmodernism In some chapters modernism is presented as an intellectual version of communalism characterised by the cliché our people say Our thinking is that the voice of reason is not the voice of the people but the voice of an individual The idea of this book is to open new vistas for the discipline of African philosophy African philosophy is thus presented as a disagreement discourse Without rivalry of thoughts Africa will settle for far less This gives postmodernism an important place perhaps deservedly more important than history of philosophy allocates to it It is that philosophical moment that says philosophers must cease speaking like gods in their hegemonic cultural shrines and begin to converse across borders with one another In this conversation the goal for African philosophers must not be to find final answers but to sustain the conversation which alone can extend human reason to its furthest reaches

Killam, 1984 This appraisal of the Kenyan novelist playwright essayist and scholar Ngugi wa Thiong'o focuses on his first five novels and his collection of essays entitled Homecoming The book discusses the literary and political influences on Ngugi his use of folklore and his depiction of women

The Changing Face of Afro-Caribbean Cultural Identity Mamadou Badiane, 2009-12-30 The Changing Face of Afro Caribbean Cultural Identity Négrisme and Négritude looks primarily at Négrisme and Négritude two literary movements that appeared in the Francophone and Hispanic Caribbean as well as in Africa at the beginning of the twentieth century It draws on speeches and manifestos and use cultural studies to contextualize ideas It poses the bases of both movements in the Caribbean and in Africa and lays out the literary antecedents that influenced or shaped both movements This book examines the search for cultural identity through the poetry of Nicolás Guillén Manuel del Cabral and Palés Matos This search is extended to the Négritude movement through the poems of Léopold Senghor Léon Gontran Damas and Aimé Césaire Mamadou Badiane further discusses the under represented Négritude women writers who were silenced by their male counterparts during the first half of the twentieth century Ultimately this is a book on Caribbean cultural identity that shows it in a slippery and fluctuating zone By demonstrating that while the founders of the Négritude movement both identified themselves as descendants of Africans and were proud to proclaim their African heritage the members of the Antillanist and Créolité movements see themselves as a product of miscegenation between different cultures
