Critical Criminology Visions From Europe:

Critical Criminology René van Swaaningen, 1997-11-24 Criminology is under attack for its seeming shift away from theoretical debates towards empirical administrative led research In this timely book Ren ac e van Swaaningen warns that if criminology is to keep advancing as a discipline there is an urgent need for the resurgence of a theoretical perspective He believes that by examining critical criminology within a European framework a new critical perspective in the search for alternative visions of justice will emerge Through a comprehensive historical and contemporary analysis of critical criminology throughout Europe the author argues that critical criminological theories must be reassessed and reapplied in the light of current trends within criminology and criminal

Punishment in Europe Vincenzo Ruggiero, Mick Ryan, 2013-08-30 This collection from a range of leading international scholars looks at penal practice in a variety of different European countries Noting particularities as well as similarities such as the overuse of imprisonment and the use of harsher sanctions against the poor this book questions how we justify and deliver punishment in Europe

Critical Criminology, 1996 Critical Criminology, 1996 European Penology? Tom Daems, Dirk van Zyl Smit, Sonja Snacken, 2013-05-17 Is there something distinctive about penology in Europe Do Europeans think about punishment and penal policy in a different way to people in other parts of the globe If so why is this the case and how does it work in practice This book addresses some major and pressing issues that have been emerging in recent years in the interdisciplinary field of European penology that is a space where legal scholarship criminology sociology and political science meet or should meet in order to make sense of punishment in Europe The chapters in European Penology have been written by leading scholars in the field and focus in particular on the interaction of European academic penology and national practice with European policies as developed by the Council of Europe and increasingly by the European Union

Electronically Monitored Punishment Mike Nellis, Kristel Beyens, Dan Kaminski, 2013-05-07 Electronic monitoring EM is a way of supervising offenders in the community whilst they are on bail serving a community sentence or after release from prison Various technologies can be used including voice verification GPS satellite tracking and most commonly the use of radio frequency to monitor house arrest It originated in the USA in the 1980s and has spread to over 30 countries since then This book explores the development of EM in a number of countries to give some indication of the diverse ways it has been utilized and of the complex politics which surrounds its use A techno utopian impulse underpins the origins of EM and has remained latent in its subsequent development elsewhere in the world despite recognition that is it less capable of effecting penal transformations than its champions have hoped This book devotes substantive chapters to the issues of privatisation evaluation offender perspectives and ethics Whilst normatively more committed to the Swedish model the book acknowledges that this may not represent the future of EM whose untrammelled commercially driven development could have very alarming consequences for criminal justice Both utopian and dystopian hopes have been invested in EM but research on its impact is ambivalent and fragmented and EM remains undertheorised empirically and ethically This book seeks to redress this by providing academics policy audiences and practitioners with the intellectual resources to understand and address the challenges which EM poses
