Critical Theory African Literature Today African Literature Today:

Critical Theory and African Literature Today Eldred Durosimi Jones, Eustace Palmer, Marjorie Jones, 1995-05 An analysis of the literary criticism of modern African Literature      Critical Theory & African Literature Today Eldred D. Jones, Eustace Palmer, Marjorie Jones, 1994 North America Africa World Press      African Literature Today, 1994      New Directions in African Literature Ernest Emenyonu, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, F. D. Imbuga, 2006 Contributors to this volume ask what are the new directions of African literature What should be the major concerns of writers critics and teachers in the twenty first century What are the accomplishments and legacies What gaps remain to be filled and what challenges are there to be addressed by publishers and the book industry What are the implications for pedagogy in the new technological era ERNEST EMENYONU is Professor of the Department of Africana Studies University of Michigan Flint North America Africa World Press Nigeria HEBN      Childhood in African Literature Eldred D. Jones, Marjorie Jones, 1998 African authors have consistently returned to childhood to find their personal as well as their racial roots Far from being merely nostalgic yearnings for a lost paradise many of the treatments of childhood as shown in articles in this issue have exposed a grim reality of cruelty harshness parental particularly paternal egocentrism and extraordinary bruising of the vulnerable child psyche Camara Laye may have portrayed a paradise state but Yvonne Vera has treated one of the cruelest features of childhood anywhere African authors generally have been sternly responsible in their portrayal of childhood Publisher's description      African Literature Today, 2008      Queer Theory in Film & Fiction Ernest N. Emenyonu, John C. Hawley, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, Adé́léké Adé́kó, Obi Nwakanma, 2018 ALT 36 turns a queer eye on Africa offering provocative re readings of texts to position formerly erased sexualities and contemporary sexual expression among Africans on the continent and abroad      Critical Theory and African Literature Ernest Emenyonu, R. Vanamali, E. Oko, Azubike Festus Iloeje, 1987      New Novels in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2010 This work discusses the validity of the perception that the new generation of African novelists is different in vision style and worldview from the older generation The 13 papers have been carefully selected to highlight the contention that the previous generation made culture conflict their sole theme      African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2019 AFRICAN LITERATURE TODAY was established at a time of uncertainty and reconstruction but for 50 years it has played a leading role in nurturing imaginative creativity and its criticism on the African continent and beyond Contemporary African creative writers have confidently taken strides which resonate all over the world The daring diversities stylistic innovations and enchanting audacities which characterize their works across many different genres resonate with readers beyond African geographic and linguistic boundaries Writers in Africa and the diaspora seem to be speaking with collective and individual voices that compel world attention and admiration And they are being read in numerous world languages This volume's contributors recognize the foundations laid by the pioneer African writers as they point vigorously to contemporary writers who have moved African imaginative creativity forward with utmost integrity and to the critics who continue to respond with unyielding tenacity The founding Editor of ALT Professor Eldred Durosimi Jones recalls in an interview in this volume the role ALT played in the evolution and stimulation of a wave of African literary studies and criticism in mid 20th century The 1960s saw a good deal of activity among scholars teaching African Literature throughout Africa and the world and this led to a series of conferences in African Literature in Dakar Nairobi and Freetown around the idea of communication between the various English Departments which took an interest in African Literature We decided on a bulletin which was just a kind of newsletter between departments saying what was going on it was that bulletin that showed the potential of this kind of communication after that we started African Literature Today as a journal inviting articles on the works of African writers Contributors to the series demonstrate the impact of the growth in studies and criticism of African Literature in the 50 years since its founding Series Editor Ernest N Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA Reviews Editor Obi Nwakanma

World Literature Today ,2002      Theory of African Literature Chidi Amuta,2017-06-15 This groundbreaking work first published in 1989 was one of the first to challenge the conventional critical assessment of African literature and remains highly influential today Amuta's key argument is that African literature can be discussed only within the wider framework of the dismantling of colonial rule and Western hegemony in Africa In exploring the possibility of a dialectical alternative critical base he draws upon both classical Marxist aesthetics and the theories of African culture espoused by Fanon Cabral and Ngugi From these explorations Amuta derives a new language of criticism which is then applied to works by modern African writers as diverse as Achebe Ousmane Agostinho Neto and Dennis Brutus Amuta's highly original and innovative approach remains relevant not only for assessing the literature of developing countries but for Marxist and postcolonial theories of literary criticism more generally The author's elegance of argument and clarity of exposition makes this a distinguished and lasting contribution to debates around cultural expression in postcolonial Africa      New Trends &

Generations in African Literature Eldred D. Jones, Marjorie Jones, 1996 Professor Eldred Jones says African literature continues to be intensely political and seems destined to remain so for some time The writers are in the thick of the fight for the true liberation of their countries a position which is still fraught with dangers He believes that it is possible to distinguish in the literatures of most countries pre independence from post independence literature but only as trends rather than as sudden dramatic breaks The articles in this collection point up The increasing importance of women writers that war produces a significant change in focus and the growth of literature of protest against the misuse of independence Professor Jones says South African writers will now have to emerge from the dominating theme of apartheid into close examination of humanity in a free society The military phenomenon has provided Nigerian writers with a succession of sub periods in their literary history Publisher's description      The Companion to African Literatures G.
