Crop Genetic Resources for Today and Tomorrow Frankel O. H., J. G. Hawkes, 1972 Plant Genetic Resources of Ethiopia Jan Engels, J. G. Hawkes, M. Worede, 1991-03-21 One of the world centers of crop evolution and origin Ethiopia has long been recognized as an important area of diversity for several major and various minor crops Based on an international conference held in Addis Ababa this book describes how plant genetic diversity in Ethiopia is of vital importance in breeding new varieties of crops with desirable characteristics such as increased resistance to pests and diseases and greater adaptation to heat and drought The three main sections in the book consider the Ethiopian center of diversity germ plasm or genetic material collection and conservation in Ethiopia and the evaluation and utilization of Ethiopian genetic resources A broad range of food and feed crops and plants of medicinal and industrial importance are discussed both at a national and international level A brief account of conservation strategies and gene bank problems unique to Ethiopia is also given The importance of Ethiopia's plant genetic resources to world agriculture has been demonstrated on more than one occasion Plant breeders geneticists and botanists throughout the world will therefore find this unique book a valuable source of information and an essential reference work Mountain Agriculture and Crop Genetic Resources Ken W. Riley, 1990 Wheat Genetic Resources Jitendra Srivastava, A. B. Damania, 1990 Tropical Vegetables and Their Genetic Resources G. J. H. Collecting Plant Genetic Diversity Luigi Guarino, V. Ramanatha Rao, Robert Reid, 1995 Loss of plant diversity a call for action List of acronyms and abbreviations Before setting out In the field Back at base Case studies Biotechnology and Plant Genetic Resources J. A. Callow, Brian Ford-Lloyd, H. J. Newbury, 1997 Advances in molecular and cell biology have led to the development of a whole range of techniques for manipulating genomes collectively termed biotechnology Although much of the focus in the plant sciences has been on the direct manipulation of plant genomes biotechnology has also catalyzed a renewed emphasis on the importance of biological and genetic diversity and its conservation The methods of biotechnology now permit a greater understanding of both species and genetic diversity in plants the mechanisms by which

that variation is generated in nature and the significance of that variation in the adaptation of plants to their environment. They allow the development of rapid methods for screening germplasm for specific characters and promote more effective conservation strategies by defining the extent of genetic diversity. Tissue culture based techniques are available for conserving germplasm that cannot be maintained by more traditional methods. Also sophisticated informatics systems enable information on plant genetics and molecular biology to be cross related to systematic ecological and other data through international networks.

Douglas-fir Genetic Resources California Gene Resources Program, 1982 The Ex Situ Conservation of Plant Genetic Resources J. G. Hawkes, Nigel Maxted, B.V. Ford-Lloyd, 2000-10-31

It is a distressing truism that the human race during the last millennium has caused the exponential loss of plant genetic diversity throughout the world. This has had direct and negative economic, political and social consequences for the human race which at the same time has failed to exploit fully the positive benefits that might result from conserving and exploiting the world's plant genetic resources. However a strong movement to halt this loss of plant diversity and enhance its utilisation for the benefit of all humanity has been underway since the 1960s. Frankel and Bennett 1970, Frankel and Hawkes 1975. This initiative was taken up by the Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD) 1992 that not only expounds the need to conserve biological diversity but links conservation to exploitation and development for the benefit of all. Article 8 of the Convention clearly states the need to develop more effective and efficient guidelines to conserve biological diversity while Article 9 along with the FAO International Undertaking on Plant Genetic Resources promotes the adoption of a complementary approach to conservation that incorporates both ex situ and in situ techniques.
