Ponterotto,Ena Vazquez-Nutall,1998-02-12 Multicultural Counseling Competencies is a state of the art book integrating the literature and work on multicultural counseling competencies It draws out implications for individual professional and institutional development by identifying the characteristics related to culturally competent mental health care As such it has relevance for practitioners who will increasingly encounter client populations who differ from them in terms of race culture and ethnicity it suggests how the mental health profession needs to alter its practices to fit the needs of the culturally different in our society and it advocates changes in mental health policy programs and organization In a very systematic manner the text provides a working definition of multiculturalism from which counselors therapists and social workers can ground their awareness knowledge and skills It presents a new concept called ethnocentric monoculturalism and traces how it has inundated our society and the mental health professions Written by leaders in the field of multicultural counseling Multicultural Counseling Competencies is a landmark volume in clinical and counseling psychology educational psychology gender studies nursing social work psychology health services interpersonal violence and ethnic studies Culture and Counseling Frederick D. Harper,John McFadden,2003 Culture and Counseling has been designed to serve as a resource for professionals in the fields of Multicultural Counseling Cross Cultural Counseling or Diversity and Culture in Counseling In this authoritative new book leading authors address culture and counseling as related to theoretical models American ethnicities spirituality immigrants intercultural families gender sexual orientation diagnosis and interventions supervision and ethics Counseling professionals psychologists Multicultural Counseling Jerry Trusty,2002 Multicultural Counseling Context Theory Practice Competence Principles of Multicultural Counseling and Therapy Uwe P. Gielen,Juris G. Draguns,Jefferson M. Fish,2008-06-19 In an era of globalization characterized by widespread migration and cultural contacts psychologists counselors and other mental health professionals face a unique challenge how does one practice successfully when working with clients from so many different backgrounds Gielen Draguns and Fish argue that an understanding of the general principles of multicultural counseling is of great importance to all practitioners The lack of this knowledge can have several negative consequences during therapy including differences in expectations between counselor and client misdiagnosis of the client s concerns missed non verbal cues and the client feeling that she has been misunderstood This volume focuses on the general nature of cultural influences in counseling rather than on counseling specific ethnic groups Counseling practices from all over the world not just those of Western society are explored Bringing together the work of a diverse group of international experts the editors have compiled a volume that is not only concise and teachable but also an essential guidebook for all mental health professionals Cross-cultural Counseling Clemmont E. Vontress,Jake A. Johnson,Lawrence R. Epp,1999 Case studies of ten clients representing many different cultural racial and ethnic backgrounds illustrate the subtle dimensions of counseling culturally different clients Topics include sexual orientation issues conflicts within cultures abuse violence physical disability grief and other issues In each case the client s history is presented followed by analyses from conceptual and existential perspectives as well as the DSM IV diagnostic model

Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR      Counseling Across and Beyond Cultures Rinaldo Walcott, Roy Moodley, 2010-01-01 Multicultural counseling is a dynamic field one that continually changes to reflect shifting social norms and to serve an increasingly diverse and globalized population There is a growing need for counselors and psychotherapists who are sensitive and inclusive not only in regard to race culture and ethnicity but also in matters related to gender age sexual orientation disability and class Inspired by the pioneering work of Clemmont E Vontress the contributors to Counseling across and beyond Cultures trace the evolution of multicultural counseling and discuss remaining challenges for practitioners Essays include personal reflections by Vontress himself assessments of developments in multicultural counseling evaluations of Vontress's influence in Canada and the United Kingdom and African and Caribbean perspectives on his work Throughout the volume offers historical philosophical and critical analysis of Vontress's accomplishments in the light of the changing epistemologies of multicultural counseling and psychotherapy      Cross-cultural Counseling and Psychotherapy Anthony J. Marsella, Paul Pedersen, 1981      Counselling in a Multicultural Society Stephen Palmer, Pittu D Laungani, 1998-12-10 The book aptly describes explores and hits the core of very complex issues around race racism culture difference dual identity stereotypes immigration and alienation It is also very thought provoking raising questions about one's own ability to work more flexibly in the consulting room with clients of different backgrounds It is excellent for a directory of resources useful for training purposes and an enabling role model for good practice in counselling in a multicultural society I enjoyed it It should be a required handbook on the shelf of every caring professional working within a multicultural environment or setting Transformations The PCSR Journal This book examines the many complex issues surrounding counselling and therapy in a multicultural society It aims to sensitize readers to the cultural and racial setting in which counselling occurs and to raise awareness of the specific counselling needs of those from differing backgrounds The book explores the impact of culture on identity and of cultural differences on interaction It looks at how one might take a client's cultural context into consideration or deal with racism and provides a sophisticated account of the salient value systems of Western and non Western cultures Contributors also challenge the suitability of a client centred approach for clients from non Western backgrounds and explore the possibilities for transcultural culture centred and multimodal models of counselling in the West
