Crossing Borders An American Woman In:

Crossing Borders Judith Caesar, 1999-08-01 In the five years that Judith Caesar taught literature in Saudi Arabia and Egypt during the 1980s key events took place that changed the face of Middle Eastern politics Seen through the eyes of many Westerners the assassination of Anwar Sadat the Israeli invasion of Lebanon and the Intifada were incidents reflective of a seemingly volatile and aggressive culture But Caesar saw these events from another perspective Part memoir and part travelogue Crossing Borders conveys simply and eloquently the voices of the people and the cultures Caesar came to know during her time in the Arab world Some of her writings in this book have first appeared in publications such as the Christian Science Monitor In the tradition of the best writings on foreign places Caesar's narrative is both an inward as well as an outward journey of discovery In addition to the political reverberations taking place around her she writes of the misconceptions generated by both the Saudi and the American press In All the News That's Fit to Print Caesar notes wildly disparate interpretations of news stories when they are translated from one language to another Caesar also demonstrates an openness in discovering the meaning inherent in the simplest daily tasks She focuses on what is politically significant in what people do every day such as drinking tea shopping and teaching Crossing Borders will appeal to people interested in a non dogmatic description of the Middle East and to those who love good travel writing
