friends had their own skills and personalities They found it fun to draw on the smooth empty walls of the caves that were all over their world back in the time of the dinosaurs Their finding wasn't just about making art it was also about sending messages through time by hiding lessons in their drawings for people to find in the future With their newfound love of drawing these dinosaurs set out on an exciting trip They painted on the cave walls to record their lives their friends and what was going on in the world Their drawings on the other hand were more than just pictures they carried very important messages They showed what friendship is all about by showing how working together and being there for each other when we needed it made the community stronger They showed through their art what teamwork was all about and how it could help people get through the hardest problems Most importantly they showed a deep respect and care for the environment showing how all living things are linked and how important it is to live in harmony with nature Their work of art turned the cave walls into a colorful tapestry of ancient life This will teach children in the future about the dinosaurs way of life and the timeless values they held dear These words which were carefully written and shared with love were meant to inspire people who lived after the dinosaurs died out The dinosaurs hoped that their artifacts would inspire people in the future to value and support friendship cooperation and caring for the environment The story of these dinosaur friends and their cave drawings is a good lesson on how nice things can change the world if people work together and share values Living in harmony with each other and our world is not only important for our own health but also something the dinosaurs taught us through their stories and art Inscribed in stone their legacy lives on showing that even small actions can have big effects and that we can all make a difference by taking care of each other and our world

Chapter 1 How It Was Found

A unique group of dinosaur friends made an amazing find in a land with tall trees and big open skies where dinosaurs roamed freely and the ground shook with the sound of their footsteps These dinosaurs weren't like other dinosaurs they were interested friendly and eager to learn more about their surroundings Trixie a Triceratops with a big heart who liked to play found a bit of charcoal on the ground one day while she was near a smooth dark cave On the wall of the cave she drew a simple circle because she felt like it It was the sun shining brightly like the one that made their days warmer The Velociraptor Vince and the Stegosaurus Stella who are friends of Trixie and were excited about what she had found joined in They saw that these drawings were more than just pictures They could tell stories teach lessons and even send notes to people who would live in the future Together they chose to make a big drawing that would show how dinosaurs loved lived and played together in balance with nature Their group grew as their project did Pete the Pterodactyl Otto the Oviraptor and Dora the Diplodocus all made their own marks on the cave walls Each drawing showed a different part of their story from the exciting chases on the wide fields to the peaceful times spent under the stars In their drawings they showed how they helped each other out when they were in trouble and how they worked together to solve problems Someone who found their drawings a long time after they were gone should know how important it is to be friendly and work together But their drawings weren't just about their adventures they also had an important lesson about taking care of the earth They drew the beautiful places they lived the rivers that quenched their thirst and how important it is to live in harmony with nature They showed how all living things big and small were important to the world s health They wanted their art to teach future kids how important it is to take care of the earth so that it stays alive and well for future generations Their trip wasn t always smooth They had problems like strong rains that could have wiped out all their hard work However they worked together to find ways to keep their drawings safe which showed how strong and cooperative they were In fact they went to other caves to share the fun of drawing and writing with even more dinosaur friends They left behind a legacy of cave drawings that told a story of friendship excitement and caring for the environment After many years the dinosaurs knew that their time was coming to an end But they were happy because they knew their drawings would last forever like a gift to future generations Indeed these old writings were found by a group of kids exploring a cave many many years later They were amazed at how smart the dinosaurs were and promised to teach other animals how to be friendly work together and protect the environment Children and adults today are inspired by the dinosaurs who drew in caves to live in peace with each other and the natural world Chapter 2 The First Drawing Trixie the Triceratops found something that would change her life forever in the middle of a lush prehistoric jungle The air was filled with the sounds of ancient birds and the leaves rustled with stories from long ago She used a simple piece of charcoal to draw a circle on the cave wall The circle was a representation of the sun which gave their world light and warmth She showed Vince a Velociraptor that moved very quickly and had a sharp mind and Stella a Stegosaurus that was kind and moved with ease that was out of character for her size They were amazed Even though the drawing was very basic it had a magical spark of imagination that could tell stories without words The friends came up with a plan after seeing Trixie s sun Together they decided to make a big drawing that would go all the way across the cave wall and show everything about their lives It would be possible to talk to animals in the future through this work which would act as a time capsule It would show them how the dinosaurs lived what they liked and the exciting things they did Because he was so quick Vince was made the scout and ran through the forest gathering rocks and materials of different colors To make a set of bright colors these would be ground up into powders Stella brought the colors and helped smooth the cave wall so that they could paint on it Her big back looked like a painter s canvas Trixie started it all and she was in charge of drawing the scenes Her idea guided their work The sun that Trixie drew at the beginning of their drawing quickly grew They added pictures of the lush green woods they roamed the clear rivers that quenched their thirst and the big open skies where they liked to rest It was them too Trixie had three strong horns Vince had a smooth quick body and Stella had plates that protected her and soft eyes What they drew around them were scenes from their daily lives like hunting playing and discovering the huge strange world they lived in
