Directing In The Theatre:

The Cambridge Introduction to Theatre Directing Christopher Innes, Maria Shevtsova, 2013-05-02 This Introduction is an exciting journey through the different styles of theatre that twentieth century and contemporary directors have created. It discusses artistic and political values, rehearsal methods and the diverging relationships with actors, designers, other collaborators and audiences, and treatment of dramatic material. Offering a compelling analysis of theatrical practice, Christopher Innes and Maria Shevtsova explore the different rehearsal and staging principles and methods of such earlier groundbreaking figures as Stanislavsky, Meyerhold and Brecht, revising standard perspectives on their work. The authors analyse as well a diverse range of innovative contemporary directors including Ariane Mnouchkine, Elizabeth LeCompte, Peter Sellars, Robert Wilson, Thomas Ostermeier and Oskar Koronovos among many others. While tracing the different roots of directorial practices across time and space and discussing their artistic, cultural and political significance, the authors provide key examples of the major directorial approaches and reveal comprehensive patterns in the craft of directing and the influence and collaborative relationships of directors.

Play Directing Francis Hodge, 1971 This new book, Play Directing, Analysis, Communication and style is a complete study of the processes of directing modern and historical plays in the contemporary theatre. It is a practical guide that shows the director how to get to the play's structure and how to communicate with actors and with designers. Play analysis is not treated from a literary point of view but as a hard core technique for setting up communication. The young director is made aware of his responsibility for the guts of a play as well as for its physical looks. He is led step by step through a technique of how to take a play apart and then how to put it together again through a delicate process of maneuvering actors and designers into appropriate visual/oral expression of the play's values. The advanced director is guided through everyday on-the-job problems and is introduced to the nature of style in dramatic production. He is shown how to achieve individuality and how to convey these interpretations in play production. In developing this concept of directing, acting and the use of the physical stage are closely interlinked. The director becomes the leader, the principal designer. Effective techniques of communication are essential. These are primarily improvisational, a method of actor discovery and of director communication that establish the aims, style and individuality the director wishes to convey. Play Directing: Analysis, Communication and Style describes the way a director needs to think and work in today's modern theatre.
