Dirt Filth And Decay In A New World Arcadia:

Dirt Pamela Janet Wood, 2005 Coming to the New World paradise of New Zealand the 19th century colonial settlers did not expect to find the Old World evils of dirt and decay But this fascinating book shows that dirt was there and that over time opinions changed about just what it was what should be done about it and who had responsibility for dealing with it Webs of Empire Tony Ballantyne, 2014-04-01 Breaking open colonization to reveal tangled cultural and economic networks Webs of Empire offers new paths into our colonial history Linking Gore and Chicago Maori and Asia India and newspapers whalers and writing empire building becomes a spreading web of connected places people ideas and trade These links question narrow national stories while broadening perspectives on the past and the legacies of colonialism that persist today Bringing together essays from two decades of prolific publishing on international colonial history Webs of Empire establishes Tony Ballantyne as one of the leading historians of the British Empire Germs and governance Anne Marie

Rafferty, Marguerite Dupree, Fay Bound Alberti, 2021-04-20 Germs and governance brings together leading historians practitioners and policy makers to consider the past present and future of hospital infection control Combining historical case studies with practitioner experiences this volume offers a new understanding of the emergence of theories of germ transmission and containment and how these theories played out in real world environments networks and professional organisations Exploring the historical context in which technologies like gloves were developed and popularised as well as how relationships between communities and hospitals doctors and nurses and the emerging role of hospital bacteriologists have shaped infection control practices the collection emphasises the diverse contexts in which ideas about germs infection and safety circulated The volume also addresses the historical neglect of the critical role of nurses in the development and success of infection control measures The Healthy Country? Alistair Woodward, Tony Blakely, 2015-01-01 Did Maori or

Europeans live longer when Captain James Cook arrived in New Zealand in 1769 Why were Pakeha New Zealanders the healthiest longest lived people on the face of the globe for 80 years and why did Maori not enjoy the same life expectancy Why were New Zealanders health and longevity surpassed by other nations in the late 20th century Through lively text and quantitative analysis presented in accessible graphics the authors answer these questions by analyzing the impact of nutrition and disease immigration and unemployment alcohol and obesity and medicine and vaccination The result is a powerful argument about why people live and why people die in New Zealand and what might be done about it The Healthy Country is important reading for anyone interested in the story of New Zealanders and a decisive contribution to current international debates about health disease and medicine Past Scents Jonathan Reinartz, 2014-03-30 In this comprehensive and engaging volume medical historian Jonathan Reinartz offers a historiography of smell from ancient to modern times Synthesizing existing scholarship in the field he shows how people have relied on their olfactory sense to understand and engage with both their immediate environments and wider corporal and spiritual worlds This broad survey demonstrates how each community or commodity possesses or has been thought to possess its own peculiar scent Through the meanings associated with smells osmologies develop what cultural anthropologists have termed the systems that utilize smells to classify people and objects in ways that define their relations to each other and their relative values within a particular culture European Christians for instance relied on their noses to differentiate Christians from heathens whites from people of color women from men virgins from harlots artisans from aristocracy and pollution from perfume This reliance on smell was not limited to the global North Around the world Reinartz shows people used scents to signify individual and group identity in a morally constructed universe where the good smelled pleasant and their opposites reeked With chapters including Heavenly Scents Fragrant Lucre and Odorous Others Reinartz's timely survey is a useful and entertaining look at the history of one of our most important but least understood senses Archifacts, 2003 Over the Mountains of the Sea David Hastings, 2006 Based on the records of 250 voyages and the direct testimony of more than 80 shipboard diaries Over the mountains of the sea recreates what life was like on the migrant ships for ordinary people the ancestors of many of today's New Zealanders as they crossed the world British Review of New Zealand Studies, 2006 The New Zealand Journal of History, 2006 American Book Publishing Record, 2006 Kā Taoka Hākena Stuart Strachan, Linda Tyler, 2007 Published to celebrate the centenary of its foundation this book introduces and samples the Hocken Library's principal collections There are many outstanding items in these collections including significant holdings of twentieth century New Zealand art early New Zealand manuscripts maps and publications early Australian manuscripts and many other items of great interest Designed to illustrate the richness of these collections the book also stands as a tribute to the many benefactors beginning with Dr T M Hocken at the end of the 19th century who have endowed the Hocken This book will be both a surprise and a delight to all readers The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2007 The American Dictionary and Cyclopedia Robert Hunter, 1900
