Disability In America Toward A National Agenda For Prevention:

Disability in America Committee on a National Agenda for the Prevention of Disabilities, 1991-01-15 This report focuses on preventing potentially disabling conditions from developing into disabilities and on minimizing the effects of such conditions on a person's productivity and quality of life. It describes disability as a social and public health issue and not just a physical condition. The report begins with an executive summary, an introduction which discusses prevention issues in general and defines concepts, and a list of 27 recommendations. Subsequent chapters discuss 1 the magnitude and dimensions of disability in the United States 2 a conceptual approach to disability prevention and use of the tools and principles of epidemiology 3 major areas of disability: developmental disabilities, injury-related disabilities, chronic diseases and aging and secondary conditions associated with primary disabling conditions 4 government and private sector programs concerned with disability prevention and 5 conclusions and recommendations in the areas of a national program for the prevention of disability, surveillance, research, access to care and preventive services, and professional and public education. Appendixes contain a paper by Saad Z. Nagi titled "Disability Concepts Revisited: Implications for Prevention," a statement of one committee member dissenting from this majority report of the Committee on a National Agenda for the Prevention of Disabilities, a response to the dissenting statement by committee members, and committee biographies. Approximately 375 references. JDD

Summary and Recommendations Institute of Medicine (U.S.). Committee on a National Agenda for the Prevention of Disabilities, Andrew MacPherson, Pope, Alvin, Richard Tarlov, 1991 Workshop on Disability in America Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Committee on Disability in America: A New Look, 2006-03-27 Beginning in late 2004 the IOM began a project to take a new look at disability in America. It will review developments and progress since the publication of the 1991 and 1997 Institute reports. For technical contracting reasons the new project was split into two phases. During the limited first phase a committee appointed by IOM planned and convened a 1 day workshop to examine a subset of topics as background for the second phase of project. As was agreed upon with the sponsor of the workshop the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) the topics were methodological and policy issues related to the conceptualization, definition, measurement and monitoring of disability and health over time, trends in the amount, types and causes of disability, disability across the age spectrum and in the context of normal aging and secondary health conditions. The phase one workshop was held in Washington, D.C. on August 1, 2005. Its participants included researchers, clinicians, social service professionals, policy experts and consumer representatives and advocates. The meeting agenda and list of participants are included in Appendix A. Workshop on Disability in America: A New Look. Summary and Background Papers summarizes the workshop presentations and discussions. The background papers prepared for the workshop are included in Appendixes B through O. Some papers were submitted and circulated in advance of the meeting whereas others were first presented at the meeting. The analyses, definitions and views presented in the papers are those of the paper authors and are not necessarily those of the IOM committee Likewise the discussion summary is limited to the views of the workshop participants
