

CRISES IN POLICE ADMINISTRATION

WILLIAM J. BOPP

*Professor of Criminal Justice
Florida Atlantic University
Boca Raton, Florida*

Political problems, unionization, strikes, emergency issues — these and other current problems in police administration are covered in this book. Using case studies that mostly recount police administrative developments against time, the author discusses the New York City experience in civilian control, the role of a Boston labor union, and recounts the West Point Beach experience around that century-renewed interdepartmental assignment of officers. The chapters on police unionization describe a successful strike in New York, a somewhat successful strike in San Francisco, and an unsuccessful strike in New Orleans. The book then discusses the forty-year history between a Dutch town and its police, and a developing relationship between police and the community in Atlanta. Concluding chapters discuss the relationship of police behavior to the quality of service, and the negative effect police shootings in Palm County, Florida.
