Crisis Four:

Crisis Four Andy McNab, 2021-01-26 Inspired by his own career as an SAS soldier Andy McNab's best selling series continues with Crisis Four as Nick Stone finds himself at the centre of a deadly game of cat and mouse when he is ordered to track down a roque colleague Nick Stone is extremely highly trained Clever ruthless and very effective it is no surprise that he is hired by British Intelligence On deniable operations one of the most dangerous lines of work Sarah Greenwood is beautiful intelligent and cunning and the only woman Stone has ever truly opened up to But now he has been ordered to hunt her down Stone must get to the heart of a terrifying conspiracy theory to which only Sarah holds the key But will be manage to before the tension reaches boiling point Delivering Home-based Services Susan F. Allen, Elizabeth M. Tracy, 2009 Service providers are increasingly called upon to serve clients at home a setting even a seasoned professional can find difficult to negotiate From monitoring the health of older populations to managing paroled offenders preventing child abuse and reunifying families home based services require models that ensure positive outcomes and address the ethical dilemmas that might arise in such sensitive contexts The contributors to this volume are national experts in diverse fields of social work practice policy and research Treating the home as an ecological setting that guides human development and family interaction they present rationales for and overviews of evidence based models across an array of populations and fields of practice Part 1 provides historical background and contemporary applications for home based services highlighting ethical administrative and supervision issues and summarizing the social policies that shape service delivery Part 2 addresses home based practice in such fields as child and adult mental health school social work and hospice care detailing the particular population being treated the policy and agency context theories and empirical data and practice guidelines Part 3 the editors present a unifying framework and suggest future directions for home based social work Modern Emergency Management Jie Cao, Li Zhu, He Han, Xiaodong Zhu, 2017-08-20 This book provides essential information on emergency management It is composed of two parts addressing the basic theory and related methods of emergency management including risk management coordination management crisis management and disaster management By putting the emphasis on interdisciplinary systematic perspectives and building a bridge between basic knowledge and further research it is well suited as an emergency management textbook and offers a valuable guide to prepare readers for their future emergency Financial Cycles - Early Warning Indicators of Banking Crises? Ms. Sally Chen, Katsiaryna management careers Svirydzenka, 2021-04-29 Can the upturns and downturns in financial variables serve as early warning indicators of banking crises Using data from 59 advanced and emerging economies we show that financial overheating can be detected in real time Equity prices and output gap are the best leading indicators in advanced markets in emerging markets these are equity and property prices and credit gap Moreover aggregating this information flags financial crisis many years before the crisis Lastly we find that the length of financial cycles is of medium term frequency calling into question the longer frequency widely used in the estimation of countercyclical capital buffers Family Transitions Celia Jaes Falicov, 1991-07-01 Of all concepts used by family therapists the family development framework is among the least studied in spite of its relevance to understanding spontaneous family change and to facilitating therapeutic intervention The notion that a developmental difficulty underlies the appearance of clinical symptoms has become a time honored tradition in family therapy just as it has been in individual therapy Yet unlike the well established and well researched models of child and adult development those in family development are rudimentary Despite increasing interest in the family life cycle as a framework for family therapy relatively little has been done to elucidate the specific dimensions and processes of spontaneous and therapeutically induced change over the family life cycle This volume gathers original contributions of some of the most prominent family theorists researchers and clinicians of our time to improve our understanding of these important and hitherto neglected domains The book opens with a comprehensive overview by the editor that outlines contributions to the family life cycle framework from family sociology and crisis theory This is followed by a comparative analysis of developmental thinking explicit or implicit in the theory and interventions of the major family therapy approaches Then divided into four parts FAMILY TRANSITIONS introduces new conceptual models that integrate the temporality of the life cycle approach with systems theory By their very nature these models cut across therapeutic orientations and have important clinical applications In Part II family therapy s views of development are freed from the confines of the therapist's office and placed in the context of other disciplines Chapters provide analysis of changing or static sociocultural values that can affect conceptions of development potential misuse of the concept of cultural identity in health mental health and education how family identity operates as a vehicle for cultural transmission over generations and family therapists assumptions about women s development The role of expected and unexpected events in the family life cycle is the focus of Part III Chapters on clinical approaches geared to dislocations of life cycle occurrences due to unexpected crises chronic illnesses loss or drug abuse provide illustrations of interventions that utilize enhance or potentially detract from the family s developmental flow Part IV explores the articulation of the life cycle framework within four major family therapy orientations intergenerational structural systemic and symbolic experiential Each of these chapters endeavors to elucidate what is the place of family development in each orientation concepts of continuity and change use of the concept of stages transitions or developmental tasks the specific dimensions that change in most families over time and the links between family dysfunction and life cycle issues Finally each chapter illustrates through clinical example assessment strategies formulation of treatment goals and interventions as these emerge from a particular life cycle model FAMILY TRANSITIONS presents a significant advance in our understanding of functional and dysfunctional family development and offers a range of interventions to promote developmental change It is an invaluable resource for clinical psychologists psychiatrists social workers and counselors that will also interest human development professionals family sociologists and family researchers FAMILY TRANSITIONS can serve as a developmentally oriented textbook for
