Crisis In Urban Public Finance:

Crisis in Urban Public Finance Pearl M. Kamer, 1983      Postwar Urban America John F. McDonald, 2014-12-17 This unique and inexpensive book provides a demographic and economic history of urban America over the last 65 years. The growth and decline of most northern cities is contrasted with the steady growth of western and southern cities. Various urban government policies are explored, including federal, state, and local policies. There is a chapter focusing on Detroit and its rapid decline toward bankruptcy and its recent strategies to slow recovery. The final two chapters speculate on what's next for urban America and give suggestions for stimulating growth.

Issues in Urban Public Finance International Institute of Public Finance, 1973      A History of the Credit Market in Central Europe Pavla Slavičková, 2020-10-04 This is the first comprehensive study of loans and debts in Central European countries in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Period. It outlines the issues of debts and loans in the Czech lands, Poland, and Hungary with respect to the influence of Austria and Germany. It focuses on the role of loans and debts in medieval and early modern society, credit markets in these countries, the mechanism of lending and borrowing, forms of credit, availability of loans, frequency of credits, dealings, range of lending, business, and last but not least, the financial relationships inside the social classes and between them. The research presented in the book is based on a wide range of resources, including credit contracts and agreements, evidence of loans and debts of courts, accounting of nobility, towns, churches, and guilds, merchant diaries, and Jewish registers, as well as other financial records. It covers a wide range of historical disciplines, including economic and financial history, social history, the history of economic thought, as well as the history of everyday life. It also contains a wealth of case studies which offer for the first time in English a comprehensive and representative sample of the most up-to-date Central European research on the history of loans and debts and serves as a basis for a comparison with the other parts of Europe during the same period. The book is designed primarily for postgraduate researchers and academics in financial, economic, and historical sciences but will also be a valuable resource for students of business schools.

China's Urban Development Shao Yisheng, 2012-10-01 Since 2002 the United Nations Development Programme has been running City Planning, Management, and Development in the 21st Century across China, a project that focuses on five pilot cities: Guizhou, Taiyuan, Liuzhou, Meishan, and Sanmenxia, to help analyze urban development trends and problems across China as it undertakes rapid urbanisation. This detailed and authoritative report outlines the key findings from this research project, which was led by Shao Yisheng, Vice President and Professor from China Academy of Urban Planning, living environment, image projects, prestige or showy construction projects, public safety, social stratification, public finance, public policies. An in-depth analysis of these problem areas and their origins is supplied by the leading members of the research team. In addition, the authors propose solutions to each problem utilising innovative concepts.

The Social Quality of Public Space Letteria G. Fassari,Martina Löw,2025-11-27 This book examines the concept of quality from a social perspective Using the example of public spaces it demonstrates the analytical and practical benefits that can be gained from an experience based approach to defining quality Sociology and related social sciences have rarely explored the quality of spaces despite qualities being social products This has led to a clear research gap in understanding spatial quality within social theory Addressing this gap this book examines public space quality through a cultural spatial lens accounting for the complexity of polycontexturalization which implies the increasing entanglement of social actions in multiple contexts and spatialities as well as the materiality of spatial arrangements Moreover it introduces the sociologically useful distinction between Erfahrung reflective experience and Erlebnis lived experience into the analysis of spatial quality The book's concept is based on the idea that social experience comprises multiple logics It is shown that the quality of public space is driven by three distinct logics The logic of expression evident in individuals drive for social integration the logic of strategy viewing public space as a competitive arena and finally the logic of subjectivation which examines how spaces shape subjectivities and are subject to refiguration The book targets both researchers and students in sociology anthropology political science architecture and urban planning It also serves as a practical toolbox for professionals in architecture and planning focused on creating more socially acceptable public spaces
