Real Markets: Social and Political Issues of Food Policy Reform Cynthia Hewitt de Alcantara, 2013-10-28 Real Markets Social and Political Issues of Food Policy Reform contains papers presented at a Seminar on Food Pricing and Marketing Reforms sponsored by the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development UNRISD and held in Geneva during November 1989

The Crisis in Zaire Georges Nzongola-Ntalaja, 1986 Conflict and Security in Africa Rita Abrahamsen, 2013 Spanning the period from the cold war to the war on terror examines the political economy dynamics of security and insecurity on the continent as well as its implications for political actions More than any other part of the globe Africa has become associated with conflict insecurity and human rights atrocities In the popular imagination and the media overpopulation environmental degradation and ethnic hatred dominate accounts of African violence while in academic and policy making circles conflict and insecurity have also come to occupy centre stage with resource hungry warlords and notions of greed and grievance playing key explanatory roles Since the attacks of 9 11 there has also been mounting concern that the continent's so called ungoverned spaces will provide safe havens for terrorists intent on destroying Western civilization The Review of African Political Economy has engaged extensively with issues of conflict and security both analysing on going conflicts and often challenging predominant modes of explanation and interpretation This Review of African Political Economy Reader provides a timely comprehensive and critical contribution to contemporary debates about conflict and security on the continent The first section covers some of the continent's main post Cold War conflicts and demonstrates their global connections The articles also discuss the so called resource curse as well as the global arms trade and reveal the complexities of the relationship between the economic and the political The second section focuses on security as part of post Cold War global governance and discusses the effects of liberal peace building as well as the link between development assistance and the war on terror The final section examines life as it continues in conditions of war and shows how insecurity reconfigures urban space transforms social order identities and authority Rita Abrahamsen is Professor in the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs University of Ottawa Canada Published in association with ROAPE ROAPE African Readers Series Editors Tunde Zack Williams Ray Bush

Changing the Rules Aili Mari Tripp, 2023-04-28 Changing the Rules The Politics of Liberalization and the Urban Informal Economy in Tanzania provides a comprehensive examination of Tanzania's informal economy highlighting its critical role as both a survival mechanism and a force for political and economic change Amid the economic crises of the 1980s Tanzanians increasingly turned to informal activities to bridge the vast gap between formal wages and the cost of living This shift not only redefined economic participation but also challenged the statist and socialist frameworks that had dominated Tanzania's post independence policies The book explores how the informal economy reshaped dependencies strengthened grassroots initiatives and exerted pressure on the state to adapt through liberalization and reform The study delves into the socio political dynamics underlying this transformation from the emergence of new economic practices to the state's reluctant acknowledgment of these activities. By documenting the interplay between everyday resistance and policy shifts, the book reveals how informal economic strategies undermined restrictive state norms and forced significant institutional changes. Through chapters that analyze household dynamics, gendered economic roles, and shifting state-society relations, the author presents a nuanced picture of how Tanzanians redefined survival and governance. This book is essential for understanding how grassroots economic adaptations can drive systemic transformation in developing nations. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1977.

Conversations In The Rainforest Richard Peterson, 2019-03-06 A rich interdisciplinary study of Central African land ethics incorporating conversations with local rainforest inhabitants that yield vibrant new insights into the dilemmas of sustaining Africa's rainforests and its people. In Conversations in the Rainforest, Richard B. Peterson combines interdisciplinary research and intimate first-hand conversations

The Reconfiguration of Political Order in Africa Denis Tull, 2005 Human Conflict from Neanderthals to the Samburu: Structure and Agency in Webs of Violence William P. Kiblinger, 2020-10-20 This book examines human conflict throughout history, the reasons behind the struggles, and why it persists. The volume delves into the causes of human conflict and what can be done about them. Based on detailed descriptions that support insightful interpretations, the book explores significant historical events in the course of human history. By pursuing a web of violence approach, it raises and answers questions about the sources of conflict and how it may or may not be resolved through investigations into human agency and practice. It evaluates lessons learned concerning human conflict, violence, and warfare. To illustrate these lessons, the book presents a broad geographical and temporal set of data, including research on the time of Neanderthals in Europe 20-30 thousand years ago, the Late Neolithic civilization on the Mediterranean 6-8 thousand years ago, medieval Ireland, contemporary history of the Western Dani peoples of West Papua, and finally recent issues in Brazil, Congo, and Kenya.

Routledge Library Editions: Food Supply and Policy Various, 2021-08-29 Reissuing works originally published between 1952 and 1999, this set provides a wide spread of scholarship on issues surrounding food provision throughout the world. The earlier books look at import and export changes during times when previous trade routes and options changed, while later ones mostly consider food assistance, policies, poverty, and famine and welfare. These books cover third world studies, economics, anthropology, politics, environment, agriculture, and population studies, as well as food and nutrition.

Urban Anthropology and Studies of Cultural Systems and World Economic Development, 1987 Resolved Sherry Shapiro, 1988 Between Liberalisation and Oppression P. Thandika Mkandawire, Adebayo O. Olukoshi, 1995 No one can fail to be aware of the incredible impact that the IMF and the World Bank have had on Africa. Their structural adjustment programmes were deliberately designed to shock African economies into free market reform and ensuing stability But when getting the prices right first swamped the World Bank's African economic plans in the early 1980s few bothered to analyse the politics of a reform package whose immediate impact was violent and unsettling While Africa has come a long way since then the goal of market reform must be as important as the task of understanding the politics of unleashing the forces of the market Not least is the question of democratisation which the Bank itself now attempts to force through with loan conditions This book is the culmination of intense debate by African authors across the continent Three sections make up a comprehensive analysis of adjustment regimes their perspectives and the political context in which they have survived or not Country case studies in both anglophone and francophone Africa round up the analysis African Studies Review, 2002

Historical Dictionary of Civil Wars in Africa Guy Arnold, 2008 This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of Civil Wars in Africa reviews the wars that have occurred in Africa in the past half century Algeria's struggle for independence from French colonial rule Nigeria's fight to achieve a balanced state after the British departure the Rwandan genocide of 1994 and the current ethnic cleansing in Darfur to name only a few It contains a chronology a list of acronyms and abbreviations an introductory essay a bibliography and cross referenced dictionary entries on wars conflicts major political and military figures and topics such as child soldiers mercenaries and blood diamonds Jacket

Voices from Angola Minority Rights Group, 1995 From the Back Cover In African Voices children as well as adults speak directly and often with divesting clarity of their former homes the horrors of civil war and oppression and the difficulties of building new lives in exile These writings are an important source of information but through their courage and optimism they also bring new insights and perspectives into our homes and classrooms

From the Ground Up African Centre for Technology Studies, 2005

The Making of Economic Policy in Africa Ravi Gulhati, 1990 The main emphasis in this report is on policy determinants and government processes involved in making and implementing economic decisions At issue are the political and economic risks inherent in reforms and what can be done to contain these dangers in the special context of low income Sub Saharan Africa The report will discuss the acuteness of the economic crisis and its causes the determinants of changes in economic policies during the late 1960s and the 1970s and analyzes comparative policy responses of governments of sample countries during the 1980-86 period Further on the report goes on to derive lessons of recent policy history in Africa It then examines the extent to which weaknesses in the technical design of reforms exacerbated problems of implementation The international framework within which economic reforms took place is also examined

The Dynamics of Economic and Political Relations Between Africa and Foreign Powers Tukumbi Lumumba-Kasongo, 1999-01-30 International relations at large and Africa's in particular are shaped by the actors historical location by what they offer economically and culturally and by who they are socially In international relations nations tend to deal with objective conditions as they are or as they are perceived However Lumumba Kasongo demonstrates through case studies of Liberia and Zaire Congo that what the objective conditions are may not necessarily be what they ought to be in the national development process The international struggle for power between the West and the East and their supportive brutal and oppressive states in the South especially in Africa created the extremely weak conditions that redefined international relations as the tools of domination rather than the tools of understanding and cooperation As Lumumba Kasongo clarifies Africa did not gain economically or developmentally from this struggle An important work for scholars and researchers of contemporary Africa and international relations in general
