Critical Genealogies Jonathan Arac, 1987      Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1989-09      Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1975      Books in Print, 1994      Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 1997 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers      Rethinking Class Wai-chee Dimock, 1994 In recent years as the centrality of race and gender has been established in literary studies class has often been seen as a crude and reductionist concept For this volume the editors have commissioned essays arguing for the continuing vitality as well as the energizing problematics of the category of class      The Critical Situation Robert T. Tally, Jr., 2025-09-09 The Critical Situation Vexed Perspectives in Postmodern Literary Studies comprises a selection of essays that register the situatedness of critical theory and practice amid various intellectual institutional and cultural contexts This book offers examples of situated criticism which in turn are concerned with the ways in which literary and cultural criticism are and have been situated in relation to a variety of ideological and institutional structures including those of world literature American studies spatial literary studies cultural critique globalization and postmodernity These structures influence the ways that criticism is practiced and due recognition of their continuing effects is crucial to the success of any meaningful critical practice in the twenty first century      The Beauty of Inflections Jerome J. McGann, 1985 With emphasis on the theoretical and methodological the studies collected here serve a dual purpose to explore the fault lines that mark various kinds of ahistorical literary studies from New Criticism to Poststructuralism and to develop a fully elaborated socio historical criticism for literary works McGann moves toward his goal by means of four special sets of investigations the relation between the so called autonomous poem and its political historical contexts the relation of reception and history to literary interpretation the problems of canon and the characterization of period and the ideological dimensions of both literary works and criticism of such works Central to his enquiry is the notion that whether viewed as an experience or as an event a literary work is a nexus of various concrete social determinations that can be specified as an aesthetic order      Jarring Witnesses Robert Holton, 1994 Jarring Witnesses begins by surveying the problem of point of view as a formal cognitive and cultural determinant in narrative historiography particularly in the way certain dominant forms of legitimate history have necessitated the suppression of the voices of jarring witnesses The problem is explored in relation to Pierre Bourdieu's theories of doxa and heterodoxy Bakhtin's concept of heteroglossia and postmodernism With this theoretical framework established a number of modern novels concerned with history are then explored Chapters devoted to Conrad's Nostromo Ford's Parade's End and Faulkner's Absalom Absalom examine the ultimately orthodox historiographical points of view in these novels while a chapter on the fiction of African American women engages the problem of historiography from the margins of the dominant culture In the final chapter Pynchon's V is the focus of a discussion of postmodernism and historical discourse This is an original interdisciplinary work which engages issues of contemporary academic debate and illustrates its arguments with examples from well known texts The book is relevant to current debates in the problems of narrative representation both in fiction and the writing of history while addressing questions being raised in literary studies concerning the representation of cultural difference and the varieties of social and discursive power BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
