Critical Response To John Cheever:

The Critical Response to John Cheever Francis J. Bosha, 1993-11-19 Bosha collects major representative criticism of John Cheever's fiction and his posthumously published Letters and Journals from the earliest reviews of 1943 through to the present. The volume provides a clear and comprehensive assessment of Cheever's critical reputation both during his lifetime as each of his books was published and reviewed and retrospectively by academics and literary historians who have sought to place Cheever's work in a larger literary context. In addition to several new essays written specifically for this volume, this book publishes for the first time a long interview which John Cheever gave less than a year before his death. This interview, according to Prof Robert G Collins who conducted it, is almost certainly the last to be publicly heard. The book begins with a critical introductory essay that traces the dominant themes and patterns in Cheever criticism and comments on the critical reception of his work over the last five decades. A chronology highlights the chief events in Cheever's life and career. The chapters that follow are arranged chronologically, with each chapter devoted to one of Cheever's works. Within each chapter are selections of criticism. The book concludes with a bibliography and index.

The Critical Response to Robert Lowell Steven G. Axelrod, 1999-06-30 From the publication of his first major volume in 1946, Lord Weary's Castle, to a few years before his death in 1977, Robert Lowell held sway as the premier English language poet of his time. Lord Weary's Castle seemed to push poetic language and cultural critique in exciting new directions, yet they were directions sanctioned by the New Criticism of his time. In 1959, Lowell's Life Studies dramatically broke the very traditions he had previously revitalized. During the 1960s, his works elaborated his new poetic mode and engaged with personal, political, and historical issues. But with the 1973 publication of his poetic trilogy, History for Lizzie and Harriet and The Dolphin, his reputation suffered. Though his final work, the autobiographical Day by Day, published shortly before his death in 1977, was favorably received, critics continued to attack him in the decades that followed Thus Lowell's reputation as this volume makes clear has fluctuated and at the close of the twentieth century there is still no critical consensus about any aspect of his work This book provides a representative sample of the critical discourse concerning Lowell's poetry drama and prose and shows that discourse at its most varied and vital An introductory essay surveys the response to Lowell's writings The first three sections then track Lowell's volumes chronologically Most of his books receive one or two reviews followed by several scholarly essays arranged in the order of their publication Along with the reprinted articles are two essays written specifically for this volume The fourth section presents several broad overviews of Lowell and his works and an extensive bibliography of primary and secondary sources concludes the book The volume also contains an essay by Lowell himself in which he reflects on his career arrows of the literary establishment At the same time Stein found herself parodied and caricatured from the pages of the New York Sun to the New Yorker Her reputation solidified only after her 1946 death from cancer prompted a series of reminiscences and reestimations from the Chicago Tribune to the Saturday Review While previous collections of Stein criticism typically reprint commentary by her most ardent supporters this study reconstructs her precarious position in the eyes of American newspaper and magazine columnists and is thus a guide to her critical reception While including quintessential pieces on Stein by Carl Van Vechten William Carlos Williams and Katherine Anne Porter this collection also includes previously obscure estimations from contemporaries such as H L Mencken Mina Loy and Conrad Aiken The book borrows from a range of sources from leading literary outlets such as the New Yorker to a number of regional newspapers Some 75% of the material in the volume has never before been reprinted

John Cheever Harold Bloom, 2009 Critics examine the Cheever's short stories The Country Husband

Goodbye My Brother and The Five Forty Eight      The Critical Response to Chester Himes Charles L. P. Silet, 1999-10-30 The work of Chester Himes is now undergoing a critical and popular reevaluation as it gradually comes back into print after years of neglect His protest novels from the 1940s and early 1950s his Harlem Domestic crime books first published in France and later released in English in the United States and his remarkable two volume autobiography are now gaining a wider readership through their republication Nonetheless the critical writings on his work remain scattered and are often difficult to obtain This collection of reviews and essays from both popular and academic sources traces the critical response to his work from 1946 to 1996 and thus sheds light on the critical reputation of one of the most distinguished but underrated African American authors Himes has a wide international reputation but this reference book focuses on those essays and reviews in the English language which provide a clearer assessment of his controversial literary standing in his native country where his reputation has been most under debate The book includes a balanced assessment of all his work along with an interview with Himes s brother that offers some corrective commentary on his autobiography The volume also provides a chronology a checklist of his writings and a bibliography      The Critical Response to Marianne Moore Elizabeth Gregory, 2003-09-30 Gregory documents for the first time the critical reception history of the great modernist poet Marianne Moore This collection of 71 of the most important and provocative reviews and essays from across Moore s long career 1915 1972 includes pivotal articles by H D T S Eliot Mark Van Doren Ezra Pound Richard Aldington Edith Sitwell Harriet Monroe Alfred Kreyenborg William Carlos Williams Scofield Thayer Wallace Stevens F R Leavis Morton Zabel Randall Jarrell Elizabeth Bishop W H Auden Muriel Rukeyser Glenway Wescott Kenneth Koch John Ashbery Hilton Kramer and many others The individual reviews are themselves of considerable literary note And together they chart the development of a major contributor to the American modernist scene whose work actively critiques the structures of literary authority The critical reviews also move beyond the modernist period to track the evolution of her career in the 1950s and 1960s when she crossed the line from the elite little magazines into popular culture The editor s introduction analyses the ways in which the two stages of Moore s career converge In addition to the historical texts which cover the period from 1916 to 1999 this volume includes two new essays that offer fresh approaches to reading Moore      Masculinity and Place in American Literature since 1950 Vidya Ravi, 2019-05-15 American literature has long celebrated the figure of the self made man and the idea of establishing selfhood particularly male selfhood in nature However during the crisis of masculinity that swept across America in the middle of the twentieth century a generation of writers started exploring a different kind of a man This was a figure who was concerned not so much with the loss of the West or the desire to recover a wilderness but with how to live in an ordinary domesticated continent Masculinity and Place in American Literature since 1950 explores the role of place in negotiating reinforcing and subverting articulations of hegemonic masculinity in the work of four American writers from the latter part of the 20th century John Cheever John Updike Raymond Carver and Richard Ford The book argues that American fiction by white male writers between the 1950s and the present day is compelled by the troubled and troubling relationship between masculinity and place. This relationship is deeply embedded in how ideals of masculinity are predicated upon the experience of the physical world and how the symbolic logic of masculinity is continually subverted by alternative conceptions of dwelling and ecological consciousness.

The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature Jay Parini, 2004. The Encyclopedia of American Literature gathers together 350 essays from over 190 leading scholars on the whole of American literature from European discovery to the present. At the core of the Encyclopedia lie 250 essays on poets, playwrights, essayists, and novelists. Figures such as Whitman, Melville, Faulkner, Frost, and Morrison are discussed in detail, with each examined in the context of his or her times, an assessment of the writer's current reputation, a bibliography of major works, and a list of major critical and biographical works about the writer. Fifty entries on major works such as Moby Dick, Song of Myself, Walden, The Great Gatsby, The Waste Land, Their Eyes Were Watching God, Death of a Salesman, and Beloved place the work in its historical context and offer a range of possibilities with regard to critical approach. The Encyclopedia also contains essays on literary movements, periods, and themes, pulling together a broad range of information and making connections between them. Each entry has its own primary and annotated secondary bibliography, and a system of cross references helps readers locate information with ease. The Encyclopedia of American Literature is an outstanding reference source for students studying authors or particular pieces of literature, libraries looking for one comprehensive source, and readers interested in American literature, its authors, and its connection with various areas of study.

John Cheever Revisited Patrick Meanor, 1995. The St Botolphs of Cheever's early stories and the upscale Westchester-like towns Shady Hill, Proxmire Manor, and Bullet Park of his later work find their complex companions in William Faulkner's Yoknapatawpha County and John Updike's Rabbit's world. Cheever laid out the parameters of this creative world in his very first published story, Expelled, which appeared in the New Republic in 1930 when Cheever was only 18. The young protagonist of this autobiographical story would be the first of many Cheever heroes to fall from what Meanor describes as a condition of Edenic happiness and childlike innocence into the chaos and pain of adult knowledge. Moses Wapshot of Cheever's first novel, The Wapshot Chronicle (1958), Neddy Merrill of the critically acclaimed short story The Swimmer (1964), and even Zeke Farragut of Cheever's novel of redemption, Falconer (1977), struggle to reclaim some remnant of an earlier lost happiness. Loneliness, fear of aging, family disintegration, alcoholic obsessiveness, sexual desperation, the threat of financial ruin, and a reliance on illusion form the dark core of Cheever's work. Creative transformations of some of the themes that dominated his life. Throughout this volume, Meanor distinguishes the autobiographical strains in the fiction by drawing from Cheever's documents of his struggles, especially with alcoholism and bisexuality, in The Letters of John Cheever (1988) and The Journals of John Cheever (1991). Meanor fleshes out both biblical and mythological motifs in the stories and the novels; his study is perhaps the first to treat the possible symbolic interpretations of names of characters and places so thoroughly. Burdened by a biblical sense of shame and guilt Cheever s characters find fleeting life giving moments of psychological release in the celebratory paganism of Greek and Roman myth Meanor writes in love passion the pleasures of the body BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
