Clear instructions describe the process for systematic investigation of symbolic acts and artifacts and the necessary ingredients for well-reasoned explanations and analysis. Accessible sample essays illustrate each method, and the same artifact is analyzed for nine of the methods to reveal the nuances and applicability of different approaches. A deep understanding of rhetorical criticism equips readers to be engaged and active participants in shaping the nature of the world in which they live. A chapter on feminist criticism features the disruption of conventional ideologies and practices. The chapter on narrative criticism highlights storytelling in the digital world. The emphasis on inquiry is invaluable for filtering meaning out of the communication encountered daily for example questions to ask processes to employ for interpretation assumptions to identify. Beyond Method Scott Balcerzak, 2018-06-25 Explores the methodologies and influence of acting teacher Stella Adler on her male students Stella Adler 1901-92 trained many well known American actors yet throughout much of her career her influence was overshadowed by Lee Strasberg director of the Actors Studio In Beyond Method Stella Adler and the Male Actor Scott Balcerzak focuses on Adler's teachings and how she challenged Strasberg's psychological focus on the actor's self by promoting an empathetic and socially engaged approach to performance Employing archived studio transcripts and recordings Balcerzak examines Adler's lessons in technique characterization and script analysis as they reflect the background of the teacher illustrating her time studying with Constantin Stanislavski her Yiddish Theatre upbringing and her encyclopedic knowledge of drama Through this lens Beyond Method resituates the performances of some of her famous male students through an expansive understanding of the discourses of acting The book begins by providing an overview of the gender and racial classifications associated with the male Method actor and discussing white maleness in the mid twentieth century The first chapter explores the popular press's promotion of Method stars during the 1950s as an extension of Strasberg's rise in celebrity At the same time Adler's methodology was defining actor performance as a form of social engagement rather than just personal expression welcoming an analysis of onscreen masculinity as culturally fluid The chapters that follow serve as case studies of some of Adler's most famous students in notable roles Marlon Brando in A Streetcar Named Desire 1951 and The Missouri Breaks 1976 Robert De Niro in Taxi Driver 1976 Henry Winkler in Happy Days 1974-84 and Mark Ruffalo in The Avengers Age of Ultron 2015 Balcerzak concludes that the presence of Adler altered the trajectory of onscreen maleness through a promotion of a relatively complex view of gender identity not found in other classrooms Beyond Method considers Stella Adler as not only an effective teacher of acting but also an engaging and original thinker providing us a new way to consider performances of maleness on the screen Film and theater scholars as well as those interested in gender studies are sure to benefit from this thorough study

Public Relations Inquiry as Rhetorical Criticism William N. Elwood, 1995-06-30 Whether politically socially economically or psychologically postmodern institutions attempt to influence their environments through the use of rhetoric in their public relations campaigns As corporations increasingly dominate the public discourse we experience daily it becomes increasingly important to understand how that discourse operates and to become more informed creators and consumers of institutional rhetoric This volume examines the theoretical bases and practical effects of a variety of public relations campaigns The contributors demonstrate that rhetorical inquiry is a viable and underrated approach to explaining the influence of public relations campaigns Cases analyzed in the book range from those of national scope e.g. Mobil Oil's Observations campaign of the 1970s and 1980s to studies of targeted influence e g corporate recruitment videos to cases of internal relations e g issues management during corporate mergers to studies of local situations e g the anatomy of a local ballot issue campaign While the various contributors employ a broad range of rhetorical methods and analysis the discussions remain approachable and understandable for students and professionals alike

Foregrounding Ethical Awareness in Composition and English Studies Sheryl I. Fontaine, Susan Hunter, 1998 This collection of essays is the first sustained look at the emerging ethical concerns in composition and English studies Unlike other works that may have used ethics as a way to set a particular code of conduct or to examine a particular area of study this book describes a range of situations obliging us to reevaluate the ethical systems that we have previously accepted Fontaine and Hunter have organized the essays into conceptual sections that focus on three of the many ways in which our current situations can be reconsidered In the first section Reevaluating Contemporary Pedagogies the authors identify ethical problems that arise within some of our most widely accepted pedagogical strategies and perspectives Competing Obligations refers to the ethical problems that emerge as teachers and administrators find themselves faced with allegiances to more than one group and more than one vision in the academy And the authors in Professional Evolutions consider ways in which developments and changes in the world outside the English department create ethical conflicts close to home Together these essays provide ethical vantage points from which it is incumbent upon us to view our agency in our profession and in our classrooms The book s wide range of voices and perspectives helps us begin to understand our own personal and professional ethical awareness and to anticipate the issues we all must face

Socially Constructing Communication Gloria J. Galanes, Wendy Leeds-Hurwitz, 2009 The idea for this book originated at NCA s Summer Institute Catching Ourselves in the Act A Collaborative Planning Session to Enrich our Discipline through Social Constructionist Approaches The conference provided the opportunity to interact with like minded others to discuss how social construction approaches influence or should influence our work Another goal for the conference and for this book is to promote social construction approaches within the discipline We need to look forward by focusing on how the social construction perspective transforms our own work When we teach how can we best clarify the social construction principles we believe in and how can we convey the passion we feel for this approach How can we insure that our research practices are faithful to constructionist principles What practices can we or must we adopt to remain faithful to these principles Together the chapters in this volume address such questions with the intention of helping us take the next step forward This book extends the conversation about social constructionism approaches and invites others to participate in that conversation
