Critical Villager Beyond Community Participation:

The Critical Villager Eric Dudley, 1993 When aid to the Third World actually works it is usually on such a small scale that it makes little impact on the world's problems Can demands for generalizable actions be reconciled with location specific solutions The Critical Villager considers how community based technical aid can be made more effective and sustainable Calling for development workers policy makers and researchers to put themselves in the place of the intended beneficiaries of aid it suggests concrete principles for action and research It argues that participatory research and transfer of technology should not be regarded as rival models for development but rather as complementary components in a single process of effective aid

The Placemaker's Guide to Building Community Nabeel Hamdi, 2010-08-12 From the author of Small Change comes this engaging guide to placemaking packed with practical skills and tools that architects planners urban designers and other built environment specialists need in order to engage effectively with development work in any context Drawing on four decades of practical and teaching experience the author offers fresh insight into the complexities faced by practitioners when working to improve the communities lives and livelihoods of people the world over The book shows how these complexities are a context for rather than a barrier to creative work The book also critiques the single vision top down approach to design and planning Using examples of successful professional practice across Europe the US Africa Latin America and post tsunami Asia the author demonstrates how good policy can derive from good practices when reasoned backwards as well as how plans can emerge in practice without a preponderance of planning Reasoning backwards is shown to be a more effective and inclusive way of planning forwards with significant improvements to the quality of process and place The book also offers a variety of methods and tools for analyzing the issues engaging with communities and other stakeholders for design and settlement planning and for improving the skills of all involved in placemaking Ultimately the book serves as an inspiring guide and a distillation of decades of practical wisdom and experience The resulting practical handbook is for all those involved in doing learning and teaching placemaking and urban development world wide

NGOs, Social Capital and Community Empowerment in Bangladesh M.Rezaul Islam, 2016-11-25 This pivot examines non governmental organization NGO interventions in two community development initiatives namely social capital and community empowerment and their role in funding and formulating development frameworks in developing countries like Bangladesh It considers the key development discourse issues of collective action social trust and access to knowledge to political processes and to financial social and natural resources Given the large proportion of foreign funding NGOs and donors also increasingly face the twin challenges of demonstrating both efficient and effective delivery of services and accountability in their relationships with various stakeholders Reflecting on the relevance of NGOs for community development and the merits challenges and limitations of NGO activities this book provides a comprehensive study of NGO participation in community development in Bangladesh and Third World countries more widely to highlight a global concern with international implications A Community Empowerment Approach to Heritage Management Evangelos Kyriakidis, 2019-11-26 This book presents an innovative approach to public archaeology in a rural community which has had powerful results in terms of empowering a village community in Crete to become long term guardians of their cultural heritage Highlighting the theoretical and local contexts of the Philioremos Peak Sanctuary Public Archeology Project this book explores the methodology and the project outcomes and assesses best practice in the field of public archaeology within a rural community As well as expanding the research on Minoan peak sanctuaries the volume contributes to a greater understanding of how rural communities can be successfully engaged in the management of heritage and is relevant to archaeologists and other heritage professionals wishing to understand the latest developments in public archaeology

Resilient Urban Regeneration in Informal Settlements in the Tropics Oscar Carracedo García-Villalba, 2020-09-15 This book focuses on the implementation of slum upgrading projects and the last generation of citywide programmes that define the future urban configuration of informal settlements from a citywide perspective in the Earth's tropical region The book presents a study on regeneration experiences in Asia and Latin America and it identifies important points of connection and similarities between the two cases while also determining that compared to Asia informality in Latin America is in its second generation M2 Models and Methodologies for Community Engagement Reena Tiwari, Marina Lommerse, Dianne

Smith, 2014-03-10 How can we engage communities What is empowerment To what extent should the project process be participatory How is an outsider insider relationship handled How do researchers negotiate with the hegemony of western cultural interpretations How are organizational and contextual influences handled in a project What leadership demands do such projects place on researchers What is capacity building What are creative leaders and creative communities How does the researcher journey from their studio to the situation M2 Models and Methodologies for Community Engagement discusses key theoretical constructs community engagement capacity building and community empowerment in order to demonstrate how theory and practice are relevant to the development of forms of community involvement The book maps the attributes of community based projects by moving beyond simply bringing people together from a variety of disciplines and taking an approach which is transdisciplinary and applicable across cultures and genres Here all people including the community are ongoing contributors and can freely move between their own and others discipline specific arenas M2 differs from and extends on other works in this field of practice and research in that its transdisciplinary collaborative approach positions the community as a particular kind of discipline to create real change in diverse locations and fields of experience The book is in itself a model of community engagement as the researchers have formed a community of research and practice for change and have developed a transformative model for community engagement that is greater than the sum of its parts hence M2 M2 offers a valuable resource for students researchers academics practitioners policy developers and volunteers from the fields of architecture interior architecture health planning anthropology education home economics communication
