Critique De La Raison Dialectique Precede De Questions De Methode Tome I:

A Commentary on Jean-Paul Sartre's Critique of Dialectical Reason Joseph S. Catalano, 2013-01-17 Sartre's Critique of Dialectical Reason ranks with Being and Nothingness as a work of major philosophical significance but it has been largely neglected. The first volume published in 1960 was dismissed as a Marxist work at a time when structuralism was coming into vogue; the incomplete second volume has only recently been published in France. In this commentary on the first volume, Joseph S. Catalano restores the Critique to its deserved place among Sartre's works and within philosophical discourse as a whole. Sartre attempts one of the most needed tasks of our times: Catalano asserts the delivery of history into the hands of the average person. Sartre's concern in the Critique is with the historical significance of everyday life. Can we, he asks, as individuals or even collectively, direct the course of our history? A historical context for our lives is given to us at birth, but we sustain that context with even our most mundane actions: buying a newspaper, waiting in line, eating a meal. In looking at history, Sartre argues, reason can never separate the historical situation of the investigator from the investigation. Thus, reason falls into a dialectic, always depending upon the past for guidance but always being reshaped by the present. Clearly showing the influence of Marx on Sartre's thought, the Critique adds the historical dimension lacking in Being and Nothingness. In placing the Critique within the corpus of Sartre's philosophical writings, Catalano argues that it represents a development rather than a break from Sartre's existentialist phase. Catalano has organized his commentary to follow the Critique and has supplied clear examples and concrete expositions of the most difficult ideas. He explicates the dialogue between Marx and Sartre that is internal to the text, and he also discusses Sartre's Search for Method, which is published separately from the Critique in English editions.

De ce point de vue, si le rapport de la totalisation historique et de la V rit totalisante doit pouvoir exister, et si ce rapport est un double mouvement dans la connaissance et dans l tre, il sera l gitime d appeler cette relation mouvante une Raison. Le but de ma recherche sera donc d tablir si la Raison positiviste des sciences naturelles est bien celle que nous retrouvons dans le d veloppement de l anthropologie, ou si la connaissance et la compr hension de l homme par l homme impliquent non seulement des m thodes sp cifiques, mais une Raison nouvelle, c est dire une relation nouvelle entre la pens e et son objet. Sartre's Existential Psychoanalysis Mary Edwards, 2022-10-20 Western philosophical orthodoxy places many aspects of other people's lives outside the scope of our knowledge Demonstrating an alternative to this view however this book argues that Jean Paul Sartre's application of his unique psychoanalytic method to Gustave Flaubert is the culmination of his project to show that it is possible to know everything there is to know about another person It examines how Sartre aims to revolutionize our way of thinking about others by presenting his existential psychoanalysis as the means to knowledge of both ourselves and others By so doing it highlights how his determination to solve the longstanding philosophical conundrum about other minds drives him not only to incorporate insights from Descartes Hegel Husserl Freud Marx and Beauvoir into his philosophy but also to supplement and enhance his philosophy through the development and application of a new form of psychoanalysis Sartre's Existential Psychoanalysis integrates for the first time Sartre's psychoanalysis into his overarching philosophical project By offering a critical interrogation of the role his psychoanalytical studies played in the development of his existentialism Mary Edwards uncovers the overlooked philosophical significance of his existential psychoanalysis and brings it into a new and productive dialogue with current research in the fields of philosophy psychology and psychotherapy
