Modern European Diplomacy Dorothée Goetze, Lena Oetzel, 2023-12-31 New Diplomatic History has turned into one of the most dynamic and innovative areas of research especially with regard to early modern history It has shown that diplomacy was not as homogenous as previously thought On the contrary it was shaped by a multitude of actors practices and places The handbook aims to characterise these different manifestations of diplomacy and to contextualise them within ongoing scientific debates It brings together scholars from different disciplines and historiographical traditions The handbook deliberately focuses on European diplomacy although non European areas are taken into account for future research in order to limit the framework and ensure precise definitions of diplomacy and its manifestations This must be the prerequisite for potential future global historical perspectives including both the non European and the European world Portraits of the City Katrien Lichtert, Jan Dumolyn, Maximiliaan P. J. Martens, 2014 During the last decades representations of medieval and early modern urban space have witnessed an increasing popularity as objects of study within the historical disciplines Scholars with different backgrounds investigate urban landscapes in various forms and using a wide range of media In general such portraits of the city cover different types of visual and written documents The twelve essays gathered in this book all cover specific types of such portraits ranging from historiographical texts and archival record over drawings prints and paintings to maps and real urban architectural settings Moreover the interdisciplinary scope results in an ample compilation of various innovative methodologies currently applied in the fields of study and disciplines addressed in the book Portraits of the City provides a representative overview of the current state of knowledge and is in this way a relevant contribution to the international debate on representations of the city Visual Typologies from the Early Modern to the Contemporary Tara Zanardi, Lynda Klich, 2018-07-04 Visual Typologies from the Early Modern to the Contemporary investigates the pictorial representation of types from the sixteenth to the twenty first century Originating in longstanding visual traditions including street crier prints and costume albums these images share certain conventions as they seek to convey knowledge about different peoples The genre of the type became widespread in the early modern period developing into a global language of identity The chapters explore diverse pictorial representations of types customs and dress in numerous media including paintings prints postcards photographs and garments Together they reveal that the activation of typological strategies including seriality repetition appropriation and subversion has produced a universal and dynamic pictorial language Typological images highlight the tensions between the local and the international the specific and the communal and similarity and difference inherent in the construction of identity The first full length study to treat these images as a broader genre Visual Typologies gives voice to a marginalized form of representation Together the chapters debunk the classification of such images as unmediated and authentic representations offering fresh methodological frameworks to consider their meanings locally and globally and establishing common ground about the operations of objects that sought to shape embody or challenge individual and collective identities Early Modern Diplomacy, Theatre and Soft Power Nathalie Rivère de Carles, 2016-10-13 This book explores the secret relations between theatre and diplomacy from the Tudors to the Treaty of Westphalia It offers an original insight into the art of diplomacy in the 1580 1655 period through the prism of literature theatre and material history Contributors investigate English Italian and German plays of Renaissance theoretical texts on diplomacy lifting the veil on the intimate relations between ambassadors and the artistic world and on theatre as an unexpected instrument of soft power The volume offers new approaches to understanding Early Modern diplomacy which was a source of inspiration for Renaissance drama for Shakespeare and his European contemporaries and contributed to fashion the aesthetic and the political ideas and practice of the Renaissance The United States Catalog Mary Burnham, Carol Hurd, 1928 The Booklist ,1924 Ex Libris ,1924 The New Statesman ,1924 Reminiscences of a War-time Statesman and Diplomat, 1830-1915 Frederick William Seward, 1916 America ,1923 The Jesuit review of faith and culture Nov 13 2017 A.L.A.
