Europe's Nascent State? Johan From, Nick Sitter, 2006 Theory and Methods in Political Science Stein Ugelvik Larsen, 2005 Bringing together the most essential laws theories generalizations and basic structures of thinking in the field of political science Theory and Methods in Political Science serves as both an introduction into basic theory as well as an exploration of various sub disciplines The most well know laws such as Duverger's law are discussed demonstrating their durability and relevance across the last century Comprised of 31 chapters contributed by 17 authors this book seeks to inspire the world community of political scientists to begin rethinking the theoretical stand of their discipline the Feud Jose V. Ciprut, 2000-08-30 Poised between the end of the Cold War and the start of a new millennium international relations theory finds itself at a major intellectual crossroads Globalizing phenomena emerging non state actors revolutionizing technologies and a self redefining fluidity in power relations are just a few of the challenges that international relations theorists must find ways to take into account It is increasingly apparent that traditional paradigms alone are not up to the task The time is right for a new set of explorations based ironically on one of the field s greatest traditions its willingness to apply an interdisciplinary approach to asking new questions and finding newer answers The outstanding contributors to this landmark volume offer a fundamental reexamination of the basic assumptions and theoretical tools of traditional international relations theory Ciprut draws on a wide range of concepts from the hidden dimensions of mindset and language to the societal implications of evolutionary ecology Unabashedly creative and iconoclastic in its willingness to search for new insights The Art of the Feud is a substantiated call to seek more inclusive dynamic and interactive forms of theory attuned to the new and evolving realities of the global scene Ufahamu .2006 Religion And Politics In The Middle East Michael Curtis, 1982-04-26 Special Series on Rural Local Organization ,1982 Administering Development in The Third World Hari Mohan Mathur, 1986-09-07 Reviews current thinking on development Describes the inadequacies of existing administrative systems and their inability to cope with the newer developmental challenges Discusses adapting the administrative apparatus to the requirements of people centred development The Human Dimension of Development Hari Mohan Mathur, 1990 Regional Development Dialogue, 1989 Comparative Public Administration Moshe Maor, Jan-Erik Lane, 1999 A two volume set focusing on comparative public administration Volume One examines different processes and models of decision making and implementation in public administration Volume Two presents articles on the comparative analysis of public administration across time place and policy areas The Structure of International Competitiveness in the Federal Republic of Germany Frank Dietmar Weiss, 1983 In the Federal Republic of Germany the 1980s are likely to see a continuation of the track competition from developing countries and resultant pressures for adjustment This paper looks at the determinants of West Germany's comparative advantage using that information in combination with evidence about the evolution of factor endowments and economic policies to assess the likely direction of West Germany's future specialization particularly with respect to developing countries Finally the role of policy in influencing West Germany's specialization and structural adjustment is discussed. This study tested the neo factor proportions theory and the neo technology theory which have been used to explain Germany's comparative advantage in light of more current data. The conclusions were that craftspeople carried the burden of explanation and that innovativeness and scale economies performed less well. The results also indicated that the developing countries are competitive with West Germany in a far wider range of products than was previously thought.
