Disaffection From School (RLE Edu M) David Hargreaves, Stephen Hester, Frank Mellor, 2012-05-04 A large number of pupils are or are liable to become disaffected with their schooling In this comprehensive account of the problem Ken Reid suggests that school can and should do much more to prevent and overcome disaffected behaviour as manifested by such factors as absenteeism disruption and underachievement The book covers disruptive behaviour in its broader context and examines the search for an explanation within schools themselves Formal and multidisciplinary approaches to the problem are also fully treated The author has drawn on his considerable school and research experience and the book is well illustrated with examples and case histories Ken Reid argues that questions about attitudes and approaches in teaching and in pastoral care provoke a continued challenge and stresses that if such questions are not faced squarely the long term prognosis for secondary education in Britain may be bleak Teachers in training and all those involved in the education and welfare of difficult or disadvantaged children especially teachers heads and social workers will find Disaffection from School both challenging in its analysis and helpful in its suggestions Disaffection from School (RLE Edu M) David H.

to explore the nature and appearance of disaffection and alienation in young children and to seek to understand its significance It deals with classroom interactions and adult expectations of children and the context of historical and policy related perspectives on schools as they relate to the under 8 year olds Theories and assumptions about these young children are re examined leading to questions on interpretation of behaviours the appropriateness of practices at the classroom teacher education and policy levels and the societal value that was placed on the schooling experience of young children at the time

Disaffection with School Mathematics Gareth Lewis, 2015-12-17 Young peoples disaffection with mathematics is a problem since it is a key factor in disengagement lack of participation progression and attainment Large numbers of young people are becoming effectively lost to mathematics with the result that too many young people are leaving education without the competence in mathematics that they require for successful citizenship Disaffection with School Mathematics reports on an investigation into disaffection with school mathematics undertaken by the author Too little is known about both the nature and the causes of disaffection and in this light the research looks beyond the quantitative study of attitude to investigate the nature of the subjective experience of learning or not learning mathematics Disaffection with school mathematics is characterized as a motivational and emotional phenomenon and Reversal Theory is introduced as a robust theory which is used as an interpretative framework to account for students affective experience of school mathematics and to inform the design of a range of novel methods Overall the book develops and presents a deep description of the landscape of disaffection as experienced by and in the voice of students Some empirical and theoretical implications of the study are discussed

Pupil Disaffection in Schools Sarah Swann, 2016-04-15 Sarah Swann provides a fresh approach to examining the long standing debates over disaffection and in particular social class differences in educational achievement through a mixed methods methodology and the showcasing of new research By observing pupils as they engage with peers and teachers in school Swann allows disaffection to be seen and heard in real events which constructs disaffection differently from objective statistical evidence on school exclusions Rather than a homogenous identity this book illustrates disaffection as layered and resting on a series of issues located on the crossroads between the cultural context of the neighbourhood and the public sphere of the school It plots in a detailed way how these structures interact and mesh to create disaffected identities Disaffection does not emerge in a vacuum or without a cause Pupils arrive at school with a wide variety of experiences and it is from these that they interpret understand and act out their identities Whilst the study in part seeks to describe and understand the social world of the school in terms of the pupils interpretations of the situation it analytically frames the perceptions of pupils within a wider social context In particular it focuses on the relationships between schooling and the wider macro structures and social relations that underpin disaffection This approach makes the research both critical and interpretative and also able to shed new light on educational policy across England based on an understanding of the role of disaffection

Kansas. State Department of Public Instruction, 1879 Why Won't They Learn? Georgina Metaj, 1998 Education, Exclusion and Citizenship Carl Parsons, 2002-03-11 Education Exclusion and Citizenship provides a hard hitting account of the realities of exclusion examining the behaviour which typically results in exclusion and asks questions about a society which communally neglects those most in need Permanent exclusions from schools continue to rise As schools compete with neighbouring schools for good pupils managers and heads are choosing to exclude disruptive pupils who might affect school image The book looks at the experience of excluded children the law regulating exclusion the obligations of the LEAs and focuses on prevention and early intervention strategies Defying Disaffection Reva Klein, 1999 Disaffection is endemic in education systems in the west But certain educationalists have taken radical steps changing schools to meet the needs of their at risk pupils Student Engagement at School Jon Douglas Willms, Programme for International Student Assessment, 2003-10-22 The OECD Programme for International Student Assessment PISA provides an opportunity to study information on student attitudes values and social backgrounds and levels of student involvement and participation in school systems within an internationally comparative framework as students approach the end of compulsory schooling The report's findings indicate that the prevalence of disaffected students varies considerably both within and among schools in most countries and that this variation is not attributable solely to students family backgrounds It also identifies some key factors which help promote student engagement and provides evidence that achieving strong student engagement at school does not have to be at the expense of academic performance The Journal of Education Thomas Williams Bicknell, Albert Edward Winship, Anson Wood Belding, 1929 New England Journal of Education Thomas Williams Bicknell, Albert Edward Winship, Anson Wood Belding, 1929 Disaffection from School Alison Skinner, Brian Hill, Hilary Platts, 1983
