Disaster In The Pacific New Light On The Battle Of Savo Island:

Disaster in the Pacific Denis Warner, Peggy Warner, Sadao Seno, 1992 In the early morning hours of 9th August 1942 a Japanese task force moved into the Solomon Islands and unleashed a barrage of shells and torpedoes on US and Allied naval ships This book examines this disaster and answers many questions about the incident that later arose Disaster in the Pacific Denis Warner, Peggy Warner, Sadao Senoo, 1992 Exhaustively researched account Stalking the facts relentlessly in the official records of the United States and Australia in unofficial reports and interviews and in Japanese documents with the help of Commander Sadao Seno the Warners have written what will remain for the foreseeable future the definitive history of the Battle of Savo Island Lost at Guadalcanal John J. Domagalski, 2014-01-10 The dramatic account of two American warships in the South Pacific this book follows the USS Astoria CA 34 and USS Chicago CA 29 during the late summer of 1942 when both participated in the early days of the critical battle for Guadalcanal Drawing on a variety of firsthand accounts some previously unpublished the book tells the story from the perspective of the men aboard each ship transporting readers inside the gun turrets behind the lookout binoculars and below deck as the battle rages Individual stories of heroism sacrifice and survival unfold as both vessels meet their fates in the South Pacific Morning Star, Midnight Sun Jeffrey Cox, 2018-02-22 Following the disastrous Java Sea campaign the Allies stopped the Japanese advance at Coral Sea and Midway But the Japanese still threatened to build a network of bases in the South Pacific and threatened to cut off Australia In response Allies made a desperate move by starting their first offensive of the Pacific War Their first target a new Japanese airfield in a relatively unknown place in the Solomon Islands called Guadalcanal Hamstrung by obsolete pre war thinking and a bureaucratic mind set the US Navy had to adapt on the fly in order to compete with the mighty Imperial Japanese Navy Starting with the amphibious assaults on Guadalcanal and Tulagi and continuing with the worst defeat in US Navy history the campaign quickly turned into a see saw struggle where the evenly matched foes struggled to gain the upper hand and grind out a victory Following on from his hugely successful book Rising Sun Falling Skies Jeffrey R Cox tells the gripping story of the first Allied offensive of the Pacific War as they sought to regain dominance in the Pacific A Leader Born Alton Keith Gilbert, 2006-08-19 This biography of one of World War II's great military leaders is a rich tribute to a staunch American naval hero WWII Quarterly John S Slew McCain was an old school sailor Wiry profane a cusser and a gambler he reminded more than one observer of Popeye He was also a pioneer in the hard hitting naval tactics that brought Imperial Japan to its knees McCain graduated from Annapolis in 1906 and served aboard an armored cruiser in World War I Perceiving the future of naval warfare he earned his aviation wings in 1936 and by 1939 McCain was commander of the aircraft carrier USS Ranger He was thus well placed to play a leading role in America's cut and thrust war with the Japanese across the broad expanses of the Pacific In 1942 he was made commander of all land based aircraft during the campaign for Guadalcanal Though he took his share of blame for the disaster at Savo Island he counterattacked with every means at his disposal to the point of commandeering the planes of the crippled carriers Enterprise and Saratoga to reinforce US strength on Henderson Field. By the time the US returned to the Philippines, McCain was leading a fast carrier task force under William Bull Halsey. When asked what he thought about his carrier commander, Halsey replied, "Not much more than my right arm." McCain's carrier group would destroy thousands of enemy planes and hundreds of ships with aggressive swarming tactics. Four days after Japan officially surrendered, McCain died in his bed. His name has lived on, however, through his son who became commander of US naval forces in the Pacific and his grandson John S. McCain III, carrier pilot, Vietnam POW, and United States Senator.

Drawing upon a wealth of primary sources including information provided by the McCain family as well as an expert grasp of the titanic battles waged by the US armed forces in the Pacific, Alton Keith Gilbert has provided the fullest account of the Admiral John McCain's life yet written. World War II Spencer C. Tucker, 2016-09-06. With more than 1,700 cross-referenced entries covering every aspect of World War II, the events and developments of the era, and myriad related subjects as well as a documents volume, this is the most comprehensive reference work available on the war. This encyclopedia represents a single source of authoritative information on World War II that provides accessible coverage of the causes, course, and consequences of the war. Its introductory overview, essays, and cross-referenced A-Z entries explain how various sources of friction culminated in a second worldwide conflict, document the events of the war, and why individual battles were won and lost, and identify numerous ways the war has permanently changed the world. The coverage addresses the individuals, campaigns, battles, key weapons, systems, strategic decisions, and technological developments of the conflict, as well as the diplomatic, economic, and cultural aspects of World War II. The five-volume set provides comprehensive information that gives readers insight into the reasons for the war's direction and outcome. Readers will understand the motivations behind Japan's decision to attack the United States, appreciate how the concentration of German military resources on the Eastern Front affected the war's outcome, understand the major strategic decisions of the war and the factors behind them, grasp how the Second Sino-Japanese War contributed to the start of World War II, and see the direct impact of new military technology on the outcomes of the battles during the conflict. The lengthy documents volume represents a valuable repository of additional information for student research.

Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1992. The Shame of Savo Bruce Loxton, Christopher David Coulthard-Clark, 1994. A forensic investigation of the Battle of Savo Island, where in August of 1942 Japanese strike forces snuck up on heavily guarded allied cruisers and destroyed four ships, sinking two of them. Loxton, wounded during the battle, exposes some of the myths surrounding this monumental defeat through an examination of American, Japanese, and Australian records, concluding with a verdict that cuts through naval misinformation and explains how such an event could have occurred. The writing conveys the single-minded passion which the author follows to discover the truth of a military defeat which, because of his involvement, became a life obsession.
