Butte Irish:

The Butte Irish David M. Emmons, 1989-02-01 In this pioneering study David Emmons tells the story of Butte's large and assertive population of Irish immigrants. He traces their backgrounds in Ireland, the building of an ethnic community in Butte, the nature and hazards of their work in the copper mines, and the complex interplay between Irish nationalism and worker consciousness. From a treasure trove of Irish stuff, the reports, minutes, and correspondence of the major Irish American organizations in Butte, Emmons shows how the stalwart supporters of the RELA and the Ancient Order of Hibernians marched and drilled for Irish freedom and how, as they ran the town, the miners' union and the largest mining companies they used this tradition of ethnic cooperation to ensure safe and steady work in Irish mines, taking care of Irish miners. Butte was new, overwhelmingly Irish, and extraordinarily dangerous, the ideal place to test the seam between class and ethnicity.

Irish Butte Debbie Bowman Shea, 2011 Summoned by the call of the copper mines in Butte, Montana, Irish immigrants left a struggling Ireland at the beginning of the 20th century in search of a better life. Around the mines, peppering the hills of the mining city, these determined sons and daughters of Eire built strong Irish neighborhoods that engendered the best of Irish culture and influence. Faith, family, a strong work ethic, and a sense of humor would see these immigrants through the decades. Celebrations like St. Patrick's Day and An Rí Ra, Irish language workshops, and a new generation of Irish artisans acknowledge the contributions of this influential group. European Immigrants in the American West Frederick C. Luecke, 1998-12 An anthology of historical articles on European immigration to the American West in the 19th century. All Our Stories Are Here Brady Harrison, 2009-01-01 This wide-ranging collection of essays addresses a diverse and expanded vision of Montana literature, offering new readings of both canonical and overlooked texts. Although a handful of Montana writers such as Richard Hugo, A. B. Guthrie Jr., D. Arcy McNickle, and James Welch have received considerable critical attention, sizable gaps remain in the analysis of the state's ever-growing and ever-evolving canon. The twelve essays in All Our Stories Are Here not only build on the exemplary foundational work of other writers but also open further interpretative and critical conversations. Expanding on the critical paradigms of the past and bringing to bear some of the latest developments in literary and cultural studies, the contributors engage issues such as queer ambivalence in Montana writing, representations of the state in popular romances, and the importance of the University of Montana's creative writing program in fostering the state's literary corpus. The contributors also explore the work of writers who have not yet received their critical due, take new looks at old friends, and offer some of the first explorations of recent works by well-established artists. All Our Stories Are Here conveys a sense of continuity in the field of Western literary criticism while at the same time challenging conventional approaches to regional literature. America's Changing Neighborhoods Reed Ueda, 2017-09-21 A unique panoramic survey of ethnic groups throughout the United States that explores the diverse communities in every region, state, and big city. Race, ethnicity, and immigrants' lives and identity are all key topics that Americans need to study in order to fully understand
