

Falling Snow

by anonymous

See the pretty snowflakes
Falling from the sky;
On the wall and housetops
Soft and thick they lie.

On the window ledges,
On the branches bare;
Now how fast they gather,
Filling all the air.

Look into the garden,
Where the grass was green;
Covered by the snowflakes,
Not a blade is seen.

Now the bare black bushes
All look soft and white,
Every twig is laden,
What a pretty sight!

Hillis Miller, 1991-12-06 Tropes Parables Performatives collects J Hillis Miller s essays on seven major twentieth century authors Lawrence Kafka Stevens Williams Woolf Hardy and Conrad For all their evident differences these essays from early to late explore a single intuition about literature which may be framed by three words trope parable and performative Throughout these essays Miller is fascinated with the tropological dimension of literary language with the way figures of speech turn aside the telling of a story or the presentation of a literary theme The exploration of this turning leads to the recognition that all works of literature are parabolic thrown beside their real meaning They tell one story but call forth something else Miller further agrees that all parables are fundamentally performative They do not merely name something or give knowledge but rather use words to make something happen to get the reader from here to there Each essay here attempts to formulate what in a given case the reader performatively enters by way of parabolic trope Die Amerikanische Lyrik Von Edgar Allan Poe Bis Wallace Stevens Martin Christadler, 1972 Issues in Contemporary Literary Criticism Gregory T. Polletta, 1973 The Poems of Charles Reznikoff Charles Reznikoff, 2005 Charles Reznikoff 1894 1976 the son of Russian garment workers was an American original a blood and bone New Yorker a collector of images and stories who walked the city from the Bronx to the Battery and breathed the soul of the Jewish immigrant experience into a lifetime of poetry He wrote personal memoirs family history and tenement tales in verse He wrote narrative poems based on Old Testament sources Above all he wrote spare intensely visual epigrammatic poems a kind of urban haiku The language of these short poems is as plain as bread and salt their imagery as crisp and unambiguous as a Charles Sheeler photograph But their meaning is only hinted at it is there in the selection of details and in the music of the verse Reznikoff was sincere and objective a poet of great feeling who strove to honor the world by describing it precisely He also strove to keep his feelings out of his poetry He did not confess he did not pose he did not cultivate a myth of himself Instead he created art an unadorned art in praise of the world that God and men have made and invited readers to bring their own feelings to it In an age of ephemera of first drafts rushed into print and soon forgotten Reznikoff s poetry is a sturdy well wrought thing a girder still itself among the rubble A timeless testament impersonal incorruptible undeniably American it will survive every change in literary fashion Book jacket Chambers's Encyclopaedia Robert Chambers, 1879 chambers's encyclopaedia: a dictionary of universal knowledge for the people , 1878 The American Cyclopaedia George Ripley, Charles Anderson
