Valentine Geere,2015-07-11 Excerpt from By Nile and Euphrates A Record of Discovery and Adventure In the following pages I have tried to give some idea of life in an excavator s camp and to sketch certain out of the way places and their inhabitants If they succeed in interesting the reader in the life and scenery of the Euphrates and in showing that it has charms quite equal to the better known ones of the Nile they will serve their purpose I hope however that they will arouse some interest in the cause of Babylonian research The example of America and the success which has attended the excavations at Nippur should surely encourage England to despatch an expedition to investigate one or other of the sites which are so numerous on the banks of Euphrates and Tigris In my last chapter I have set out some of the reasons which may be urged in favour of her turning her attention once more to the field in which she has already won so many laurels and I need say no more upon the subject now About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
