Designing Globally Networked Learning Environments, 2008-01-01 Faculty administrators and others in higher education face growing pressures to position their institutions programs and courses in global markets and to prepare students for global work and citizenship These pressures raise urgent questions What might higher education look like in a globally networked world Do traditional industrial models of learning suffice or what new visions for learning are emerging What does it take to implement and maintain these visions To address these questions Designing Globally

Networked Learning Environments brings together 25 educators from four continents who share their richly diverse visions for teaching and learning in a globally networked world What unites these visions is that they break with traditional models of repackaging traditional institutionally bounded courses for online delivery in global markets Instead these educators build robust partnerships to design globally networked learning environments that connect students with peers instructors and communities across traditional institutional national and other boundaries to facilitate the kind of cross boundary knowledge making that students as professionals and citizens will need to participate in the shaping of an emerging global order and to address the most pressing global problems we face The book offers these visions as opportunities for faculty program directors administrators international program experts instructional designers faculty development experts and others in higher education to work together to deliberate develop and shape inspiring visions for globally networked learning and to become active participants in the globalization of higher education

Handbook of Corporate University Development

Geoff Peters, 2017-11-28 From the moment the first corporate university CU was created and the term was coined the central metaphor of university has proved a double edged sword The emphasis on university has been a driving force in moving companies beyond a restricted and siloed approach to training to a central vision for learning within the organization On the other hand there have been failures and many corporate universities have struggled to bring a business rigour to learning or to align their development with the key business and financial drivers of the organization Handbook of Corporate University Development draws on experience from around the world to provide anyone responsible for strategy and learning at senior levels in government education and business with a picture of current best practice The Handbook is not a prescriptive how to rather an exploration of key issues such as Who owns a corporate university initiative How is the funding managed How is the CU aligned with business strategy How do CU directors and project managers deploy resources How do they deal with suppliers How do they report and measure CU performance What are the processes and technologies needed to provide and support different forms of learning How can you blend different media How do you assess what learning has taken place What are the future prospects and potential for corporate universities It is time for the corporate university to demonstrate how business rigour handled deftly and with strong and perceptive leadership can revolutionize learning both inside and outside the organization Handbook of Corporate University Development is an important catalyst towards this process

The Architecture of Productive Learning Networks Lucila Carvalho, Peter Goodyear, 2014-03-14 The Architecture of Productive Learning Networks explores the characteristics of productive networked learning situations and through a series of case studies identifies some of the key qualities of successful designs The case studies include networks from a variety of disciplinary and professional fields including graphic design chemistry health care library science and teacher education These learning networks have been implemented in a variety of settings undergraduate courses in higher education continuing professional development and informal networks for creating and sharing knowledge on a particular topic They are rich in reusable design ideas The book introduces a framework for analyzing learning networks to show how knowledge human interaction and physical and digital resources combine in the operation of productive learning networks The book also argues that learning through interaction in networks has a long history It combines ideas from architecture anthropology archaeology education sociology and organizational theory to illustrate and understand networked forms of learning
