The Napoleonic Wars Alexander Mikaberidze, 2020-01-13 Austerlitz Wagram Borodino Trafalgar Leipzig Waterloo these are the places most closely associated with the era of the Napoleonic Wars But how did this period of nearly continuous conflict affect the world beyond Europe The immensity of the fighting waged by France against England Prussia Austria and Russia and the immediate consequences of the tremors that spread throughout the world In this ambitious and far ranging work Alexander Mikaberidze argues that the Napoleonic Wars can only be fully understood in an international perspective France struggled for dominance not only on the plains of Europe but also in the Americas West and South Africa Ottoman Empire Iran India Indonesia the Philippines Mediterranean Sea and the Atlantic and Indian Oceans Taking specific regions in turn Mikaberidze discusses major political military events around the world and situates geopolitical decision making within its long and short term contexts From the British expeditions to Argentina and South Africa to the Franco Russian maneuvering in the Ottoman Empire the effects of the French Revolution and Napoleonic Wars would shape international affairs well into the next century In Egypt the wars led to the rise of Mehmed Ali and the emergence of a powerful state in North America the period transformed and enlarged the newly established United States and in South America the Spanish colonial empire witnessed the start of national liberation movements that ultimately ended imperial control Skillfully narrated and deeply researched here at last is the global history of the period one that expands our view of the Napoleonic Wars and their role in laying the foundations of the modern world

National Resilience During War Eyal Lewin, 2012-08-31 In political science war is generally considered the most traumatic event a nation faces often posing threats to a nation s very existence The challenge of surviving the war may therefore prove central to the life of a nation However national resilience during war has not yet been fully investigated National Resilience during War Refining the Decision Making Model by Eyal Lewin searches for the mechanisms of national resilience through a deep inquiry into nine different case studies taken from the scenery of World War II Following a multi disciplinary attitude a business management model is adopted the PEST and SWOT model and political economic social and military technological factors are analyzed for each of the case studies The result is a comprehensive political decision making model on a national level that can serve as a means for leaders to navigate successfully in geopolitical turbulence as well as for social scientists to better understand the defeats that different countries suffer and the victories that others demonstrate This research however goes further by refining the model and pointing to the exact combination of factors that are crucial for a nation s ability to win its wars Using a qualitative comparative analysis technique the exact combination is traced The results emphasize that the winning scheme blends political and social factors together leadership positive psychology and an inspiring national ethos prove to be a necessary though not a sufficient conditional combination for success National Resilience during War fills a significant gap in the literature on the politics of war

Gentlemen in Khaki John Strawson, 1989 During the last century the British Army has been ceaselessly on active service fighting one enemy or another all over the world It has in this time undergone profound change yet to look at the Army in 1890 and again today is also to observe remarkable similarities most notable of all being its priceless regimental system In tracing the Army s activities over this period John Strawson concentrates on the soldiers themselves whether Generals or Tommies and their performance in action Success in Queen Victoria's Imperial wars is followed by a major set back in South Africa, the carnage on the Western Front and the tragedy of Gallipoli are lightened by Allenby's triumphant campaign in Palestine. Being unprepared for Hitler's war brings inevitable failure in France and the Far East, the slow road back is inspired by Britain's greatest man of action Mr Winston Churchill who figures so largely in the story. From a small Imperial Army in 1890 keeping the Pax Britannica with the Royal Navy's aid we see its expansion and mechanization and then after the Second World War National Service is retained for some years to deal with Korea and a retreat we have a small volunteer Army of professionals dedicated to Europe's defence.

Jacket The Napoleonic War Journal of Captain Thomas Henry Browne, 1807-1816 Thomas Henry Browne, 1987 Thomas Henry Browne obtained an ensign's commission in the 23rd Royal Welch Fusiliers in 1805. Some twenty one months later he began a long service overseas for most of nine years from 1807 to 1816. During this period Browne participated in the seizure of the Danish fleet at Copenhagen in 1807, the Capture of Martinique from the French in 1809 and the ebb and flow of the campaign against Napoleon's army in the Iberian Peninsula 1810 to 1814. During this latter period he served on Wellington's Headquarters staff in the Adjutant General's office and was privileged to observe the great commander from a close point of vantage. During the period of his overseas service Browne kept a journal in which he noted in a vivid and trenchant style the day to day events occurring in his own and other units whether in camp on the march or in the heat of battle. His staff position enabled him to see the broad sweep of tactical decisions while his remarkable gifts as an observer bring to life the officers and men who composed the armies of the day depicting them in a succession of graphic images. Few military journals of any period have captured the soldier's life with such immediacy like a first rate war correspondent's report from the battle front. After the defeat of Napoleon in 1815 Browne continued to rise in the military hierarchy retiring with a knighthood and the rank of Lieutenant General. He died in 1855 aged 68. In this edition the Journal has been faithfully reproduced by Professor Roger Buckley who has written a full introduction placing Thomas Henry Browne in the context of his times evoking the customs and disciplines of the British regular army in the age of Wellington and sketching in the historical background to the conflicts in which the army was engaged. Each section of the Journal is similarly introduced by the editor who has also supplied a detailed biographical appendix, full notes and bibliography and a representative selection of illustrations.
