Button, Button, Who's Got the Button? Bucken,1995 Play These Games Heather Swain,2012-05-01 Using simple everyday items found around the house Play These Games will inspire kids and the young at heart with a spectrum of ingenious games to make and play so they ll never be bored again Gather family photos to create a personalized set of Go Fish cards Grab loose buttons for button golf shuffle button and button hockey Unleash your inner pinball wizard with a clothespin and cardboard box version of the arcade classic Get out the hula hoops and brooms for a backyard jousting tournament Try one of fifteen variations of the classic game of Tag Whether it s competitive or cooperative for large groups or duos the games in this clever guide are fun to create and a blast to play Living With Childhood Cancer Leigh A. Woznick,Carol D. Goodheart,2001-09-15 Like a natural disaster the diagnosis that your child has cancer can leave you and your family feeling helpless How do you explain the disease to the child and to his or her siblings How can you communicate your child s needs to the hospital staff What are the best ways to reduce the physical side effects and the emotional distress of treatment How will you your child or teenager and the rest of your family cope with cancer and what can you do to help When and where do you find good psychological help for your child or your family How do you manage financial and school issues How can you foster your child s development and self esteem More than 12 000 American children will be diagnosed with cancer this year and roughly 75% will survive In addition to excellent medical care their survival depends on a strong support network which may include parents siblings extended family members friends and neighbors classmates and teachers In this down to earth guidebook the authors draw on their own family s experience with cancer as well as their professional expertise and stories from others to help families address the psychological impact of cancer The result is a book filled with sound emotional guidance useful information and practical advice for families coping with cancer All New 101 Phonics Activities Publications International, Limited,Joyce Stirniman,2004-07 Making Believe Magdalene Redekop,2020-04-10 Making Believe responds to a remarkable flowering of art by Mennonites in Canada After the publication of his first novel in 1962 Rudy Wiebe was the only identifiable Mennonite literary writer in the country Beginning in the 1970s the numbers grew rapidly and now include writers Patrick Friesen Sandra Birdsell Di Brandt Sarah Klassen Armin Wiebe David Bergen Miriam Toews Carrie Snyder Casey Plett and many more A similar renaissance is evident in the visual arts including artists Gathie Falk Wanda Koop and Aganetha Dyck and in music including composers Randolph Peters Carol Ann Weaver and Stephanie Martin Confronted with an embarrassment of riches that resist survey Magdalene Redekop opts for the use of case studies to raise questions about Mennonites and art Part criticism part memoir Making Believe argues that there is no such thing as Mennonite art At the same time her close engagement with individual works of art paradoxically leads Redekop to identify a Mennonite sensibility at play in the space where artists from many cultures interact Constant questioning and commitment to community are part of the Mennonite dissenting tradition Although these values come up against the legacy of radical Anabaptist hostility to art Redekop argues that the Early Modern roots of a contemporary crisis of representation are shared by all artists Making Believe posits a Spielraum or play space in which all artists are dissembling tricksters but differences in how we play are inflected by where we come from The close readings in this book insist on respect for difference at the same time as they invite readers to find common ground while making believe across cultures
