Troxler, 2021-12-15 Sallie Stockard 1869 1963 the first female graduate of the University of North Carolina published three county histories between 1900 and 1904 Thereafter she lived an obscure and difficult life that reveals much about the many challenges women of that time faced Encouraged by New South educational mentors she countered restrictions on women with diligence and self promotion Carole Troxler discloses Stockard s professional and personal hindrances resourcefulness failures and triumph following her to New England the Southwest and New York Like her subject Troxler lives in Alamance County and her publications include its history      Appalachia in the Making Mary Beth Pudup, Dwight B. Billings, Altina L. Waller, 2000-11-09 Appalachia first entered the American consciousness as a distinct region in the decades following the Civil War The place and its people have long been seen as backwards and other because of their perceived geographical social and economic isolation These essays by fourteen eminent historians and social scientists illuminate important dimensions of early social life in diverse sections of the Appalachian mountains The contributors seek to place the study of Appalachia within the context of comparative regional studies of the United States maintaining that processes and patterns thought to make the region exceptional were not necessarily unique to the mountain South The contributors are Mary K Anglin Alan Banks Dwight B Billings Kathleen M Blee Wilma A Dunaway John R Finger John C Inscoe Ronald L Lewis Ralph Mann Gordon B McKinney Mary Beth Pudup Paul Salstrom Altina L Waller and John Alexander Williams      Battling Nell Alexander S. Leidholdt, 2009-11 A longtime columnist for the Raleigh News and Observer Cornelia Battle Lewis earned a national reputation in the 1920s and 1930s for her courageous advocacy on behalf of women s rights African Americans children and labor unions Late in her life however after fighting mental illness Lewis reversed many of her stances and railed against the liberalism she had spent her life advancing In Battling Nell Alexander S Leidholdt tells the compelling and ultimately tragic life story of this groundbreaking journalist against the backdrop of the turbulent post Reconstruction Jim Crow South and speculates about the cause of her extraordinary transformation The daughter of North Carolina s most prominent public health official Lewis grew up in Raleigh but her experiences at Smith College in Massachusetts and later in France during World War I led her to question the prevailing racial attitudes and gender roles of her native region In 1920 Lewis began her storied career with the News and Observer Inspired by H L Mencken s scathing criticism of the South she soon established herself as the region s leading female liberal journalist Her column Incidentally attacked the Ku Klux Klan lobbied against the exploitation of mill workers defended strikers during the notorious communist organized Gastonia labor violence mocked religious fundamentalists who fought the teaching of evolution and decried lynch law A suffragist and a feminist who saw women s rights as inextricably linked to human rights Lewis ran for state legislature in 1928 and was one of the first women in North Carolina to be admitted to the bar In the 1930s however Lewis faced repeated institutionalizations for a debilitating bout of mental illness and sought treatment from Christian Science practitioners spiritualists and psychotherapists As she aged her views grew increasingly reactionary and she insisted that she had served as a communist dupe during the Gastonia strike and trials that communists had infiltrated the University of North Carolina and that many of her former progressive allies had ties to communism Finally many of her opinions completely reversed and in the wake of the 1954 Brown v Board decision she served as an influential spokesperson for the South s massive resistance to public school desegregation She continued to espouse these conservative beliefs until her death in 1956 In his detailed retelling of Lewis s fascinating life Leidholdt chronicles the turbulent history of North Carolina from the 1920s through the 1950s as industrialization and racial integration began to tear at the region s conservative fabric He vividly explains the background and ramifications of Lewis s many controversial stances and explores the possible reasons for her ideological about face Through the extraordinary story of Battling Nell Leidholdt reveals how the complex issues of gender labor and race intertwined to influence the convulsive events that shaped the course of early twentieth century southern history

The Qualified Student Harold S. Wechsler,2017-09-29 In The Qualified Student Harold S Wechsler focuses on methods of student selection used by institutions of higher education in the United States More specifically he discusses the way that college and university reformers employed those methods to introduce higher education into a broader cross section of America by extending access to an increased number of students from nontraditional backgrounds Implicit in much of this book is an underlying social and ethical question How legitimate was and is higher education s regulation of social mobility Public concern over colleges and universities practices became inevitable once they became regulators between social classes The challenging of colleges admissions policies in the courts augments similar concerns that have been present in legislatures for decades The volume is divided into three main sections Prerequisites Columbia and the Selective Function and Implications It focuses mainly on four universities The University of Michigan Columbia University the University of Chicago and the City University of New York Wechsler maintains that unlike other universities these institutions were pacesetters they did not adopt a new policy simply because some other college had already adopted it A new introduction brings the book originally published in 1977 up to date and demonstrates its continuing importance in today s academic world of selective admissions By Her Own Bootstraps Albert Coates,1975

The Power of Femininity in the New South Anastatia Sims,1997 The Power of Femininity in the New South demonstrates how the legendary strength and moral authority of the South s steel magnolias inspired turn of the century women to move from the parlor to the political arena With a comprehensive examination of the women s voluntary associations that proliferated in North Carolina between 1880 and 1930 Anastatia Sims chronicles the emergence of women both black and white in a political terrain torn between the tyranny of white supremacy and the promise of Progressive reform She tells how organized women as they called themselves came to terms with a sacred cultural icon of the antebellum South the complex often contradictory ideal of southern femininity and how they explored the ideal s possibilities discovered its limitations and ultimately transformed it by their own actions The Manuscript Inventories and the Catalogs of Manuscripts, Books, and Periodicals: Book catalog, A-Chal Arthur and Elizabeth Schlesinger Library on the History of Women in America,1984 The History of American Women's Voluntary Organizations, 1810-1960 Karen J.
